WAY DOWN SOUTH IN MISSISSIPPI,
THERE'S A SPOT THAT EVER CALLS.
WHERE AMONG THE HILLS ENFOLDED
STAND OLD ALMA MATER'S HALLS.
WHERE THE TREES LIFT HIGH THEIR BRANCHES TO THE WHISPERING
SOUTHERN BREEZE
THERE OLE MISS IS CALLING, CALLING
TO OUR HEARTS FOND MEMORIES.

The Alma Mater of the University of Mississippi expresses very aptly the rich traditions and surroundings always linked with Ole Miss. A theme for the opening section is suggested by the first line. The heritage as well as the future of the University lies within the heritage and future of the State.

In this 1958 yearbook we have sought to capture much of these traditions and surroundings and to record the activities and events which grace each school year and tend to set it apart from the previous ones.

You, as the individual student, will naturally have your own experiences, associations, tribulations and, therefore, your own recollections.

If, in the years to come, you will turn through these pages and re-live for a while those "best years of your life," the OLE MISS will have fulfilled its foremost function.

If we can make you recall that character who sat next to you in class, and wonder what ever became of him . . . the football trips and parties, and wish for a few more like them . . . that final exam you crammed for, but didn't quite remember . . . the dates, the card games, the studies . . .

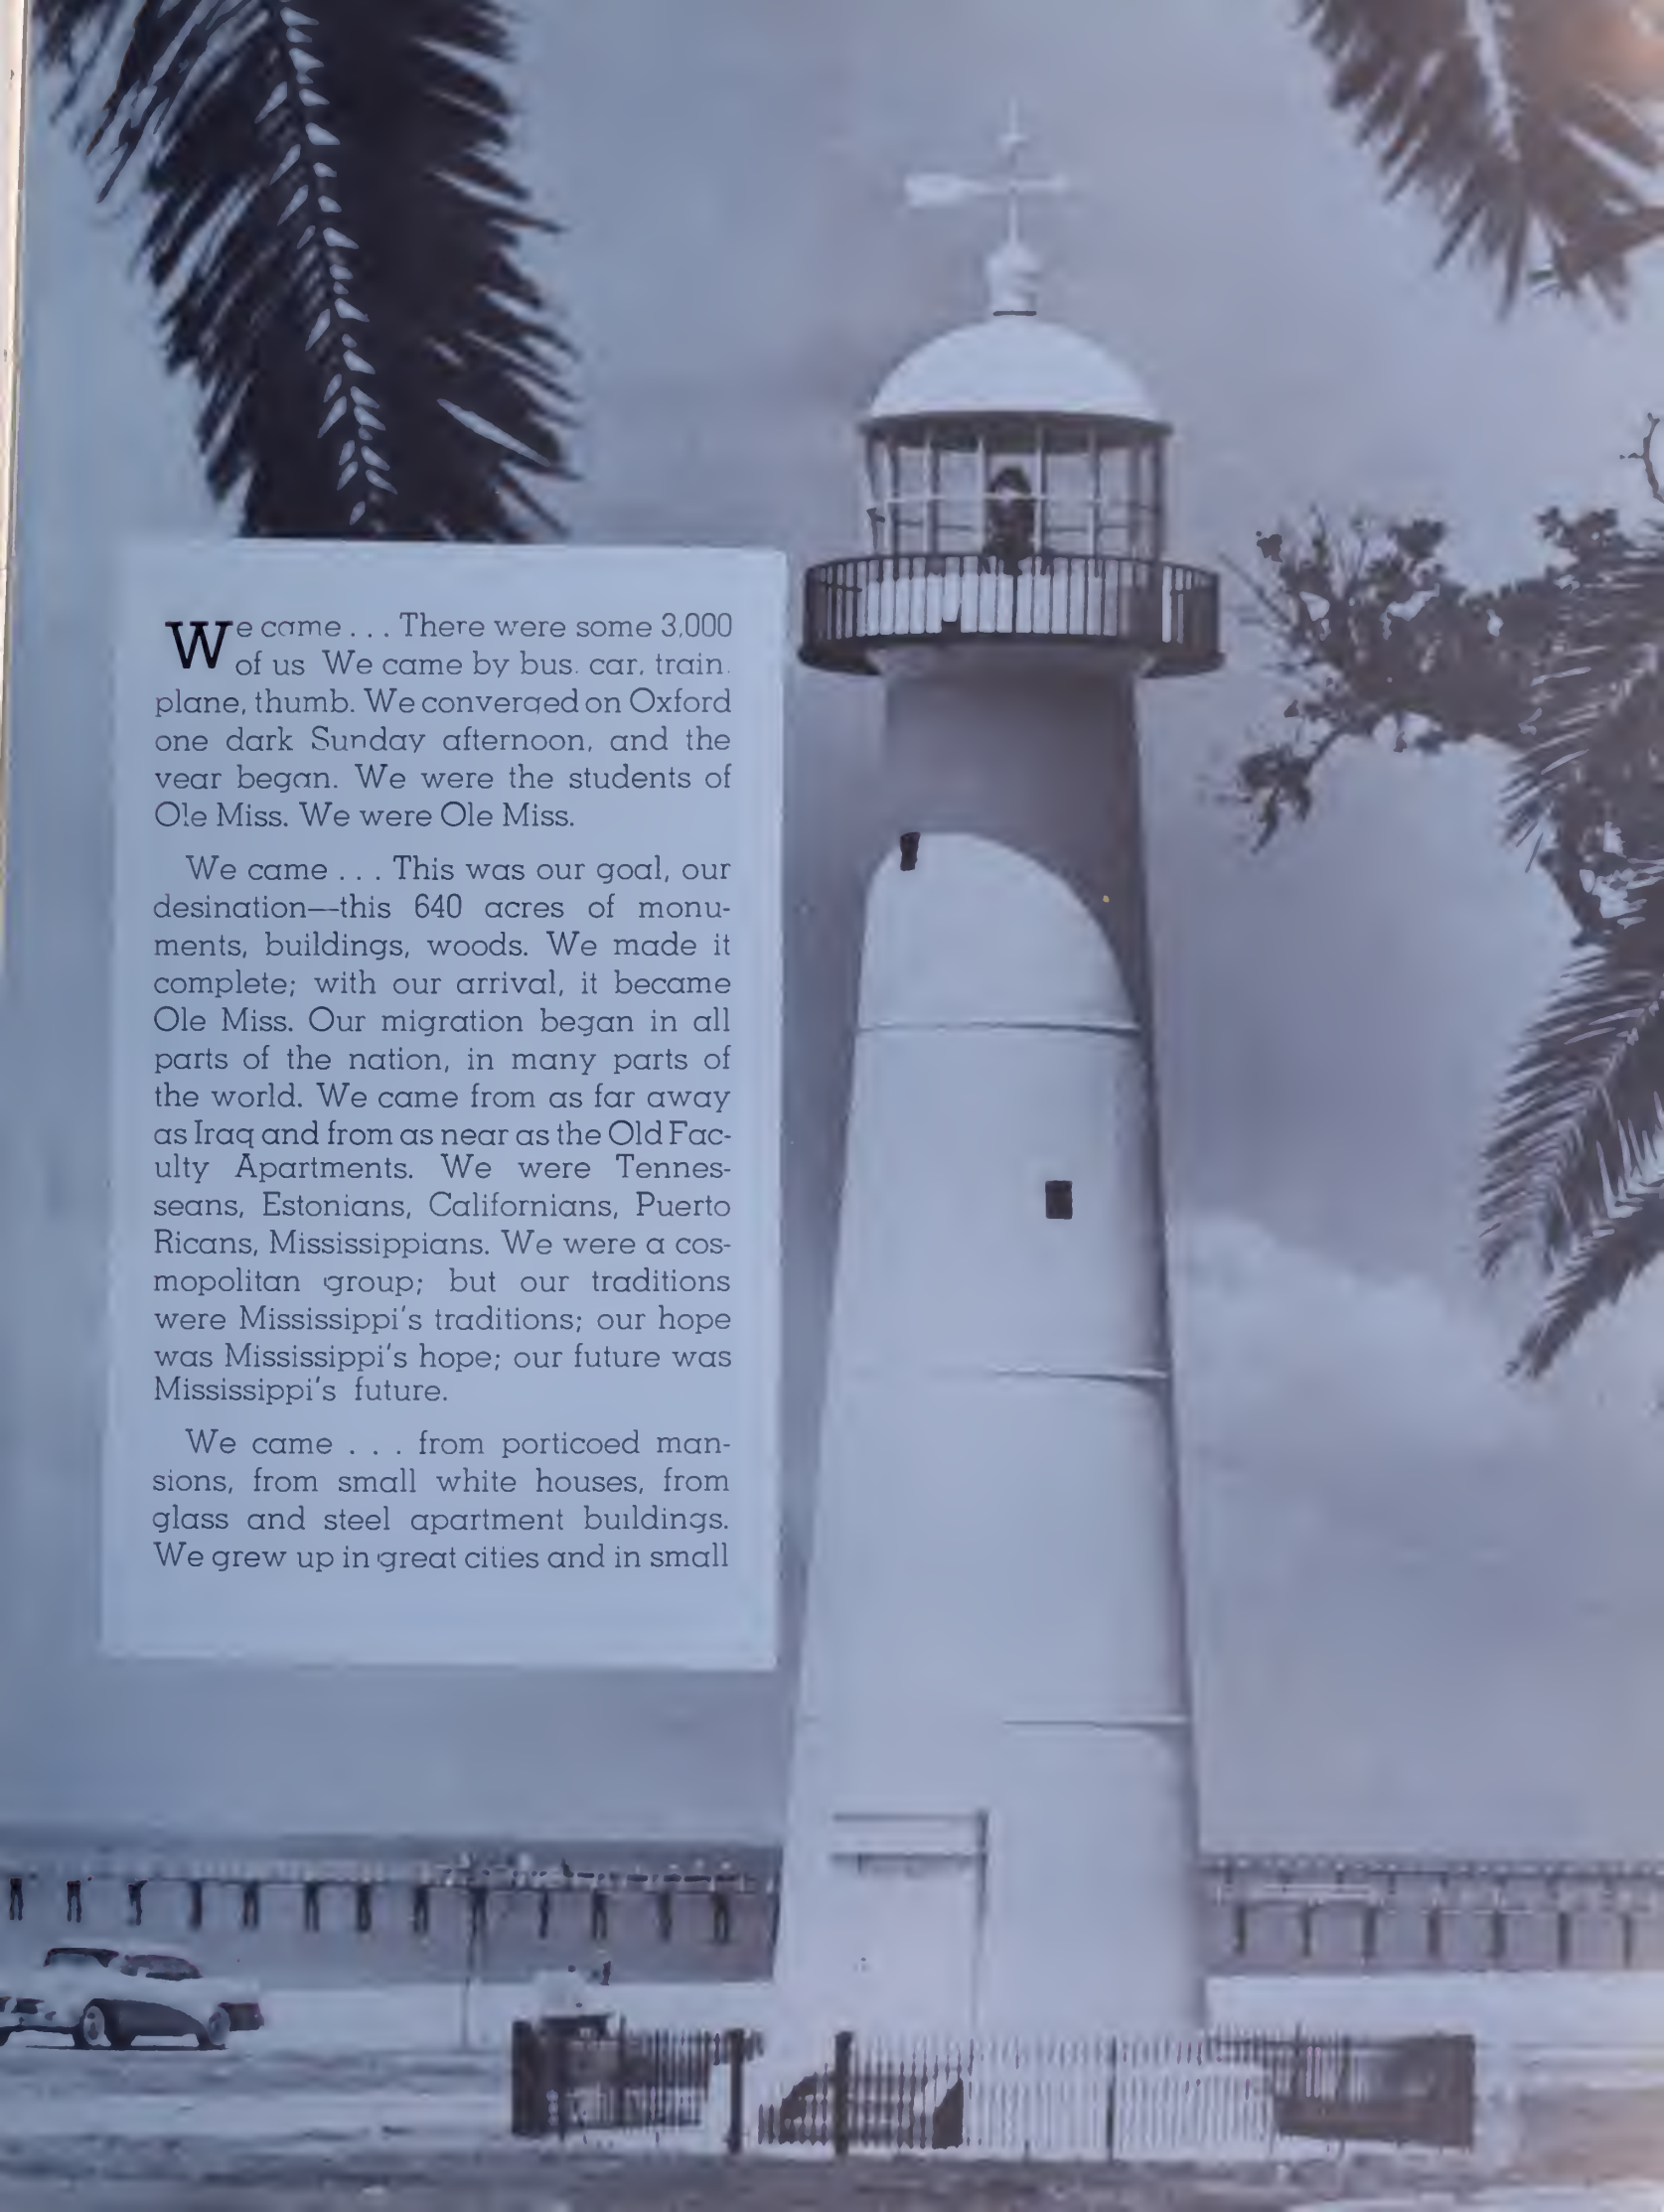

If we can make you pause in life's free-way for a moment and feel that little hollowness in your stomach . . . if we can make you linger to laugh, or even moisten your eyes a bit . . . if we can bring to your heart "fond memories" . . . then there is a reason for the OLE MISS and for all annuals everywhere.

FOREWORD

TO OLE MISS WE CAME . . .

We came . . . There were some 3,000 of us. We came by bus, car, train, plane, thumb. We converged on Oxford one dark Sunday afternoon, and the year began. We were the students of Ole Miss. We were Ole Miss.

We came . . . This was our goal, our destination—this 640 acres of monuments, buildings, woods. We made it complete; with our arrival, it became Ole Miss. Our migration began in all parts of the nation, in many parts of the world. We came from as far away as Iraq and from as near as the Old Faculty Apartments. We were Tennesseans, Estonians, Californians, Puerto Ricans, Mississippians. We were a cosmopolitan group; but our traditions were Mississippi's traditions; our hope was Mississippi's hope; our future was Mississippi's future.

We came . . . from porticoed mansions, from small white houses, from glass and steel apartment buildings. We grew up in great cities and in small towns; on Delta plantations covering thousands of acres of flat fertile land and on homestead farms hidden among the hills of Lafayette County. We were wealthy and we were poor. Our parents were plumbers, industrialists, cattlemen, doctors, dirt-farmers.

We came . . . to prepare for our careers which were to be as varied as our backgrounds. We saw ourselves as chemists, journalists, doctors, executives, lawyers, engineers, teachers, accountants, pharmacists. We set high goals; and we knew, even as we set them, that some goals would be reached easily, others only with difficulty, and that some would be eternally just beyond our grasp. We watched as some of us dropped out, as some married or lost interest, some lowered their goals, and as a few dreamed even greater dreams.

We came . . . to study, to learn, to become that indefinable object, the educated person. But why to Ole Miss? Why did we who were Virginians, Colombians, Oregonians come to Mississippi? Why did we who were Mississippians come to Ole Miss? We came because we wanted the sometimes intangible, but undeniable, advantages of a university education. And we had learned, perhaps through unfortunate experiences elsewhere, that there are many facets of such an education; that its advantages take many forms. A fine, rather delicate balance must be struck. We found that Ole Miss had such a balance. So we came, we studied, we partied, we worked, we played; there were times of trial and disappointment, but we had a ball.

a D R C

. . . BY SPECIAL TRAINING

We came . . . because we believed in a dream, a dream of Mississippi going first and all others following. The foundations for the fulfillment of this dream had been poured. We were moving forward more rapidly than any other state; in industry, in education, in agriculture, in all areas. But there was a great gap that had to be closed before the dream could be realized. We were preparing at Ole Miss to close that gap.

. . . RECEIVING FROM THE STATE

We came . . . preparing to push our state ahead. But our contribution was not to be without return. Mississippi was educating us and offering us the opportunity to move forward with her. There was no field of preparation at Ole Miss which could not offer a multitude of opportunities in Mississippi, the new Mississippi—thinking ahead, moving ahead.

We came . . . This was and is our school, our state. In our preparation we were constantly looking forward to accepting our responsibility among the individuals, the masses. Today we are Ole Miss—tomorrow we are Mississippi; America; the World; the Universe.

... THE YEAR

The year began one dismal Sunday afternoon as the freshman swarmed over the campus. It began against an excited background of shaved heads, beanies, and pep rallies. As orientation week progressed and the freshmen spent hours in the library taking seemingly useless, tedious tests, the excitement ended. The campus took on a more normal complexion with the more or less willing return of the upperclassmen. Classes began and were then forgotten in the confusion of rush week. Football, homecoming, and Dixie Week came in quick succession. Christmas vacation brought rest, parties, and the Sugar Bowl; then final exams, term grades and resolutions to work harder next semester. Second semester meant basketball, Rebelee, baseball, spring formals, elections, sing-song, frat sweethearts, and finally graduation. That was the year, and this is its record.

scared Freshmen

Freshly-shaved bald heads, trailers and trunks full of clothes, bewildered students, anxious parents—all were unmistakably and painfully evident on the first day back at school. Freshmen, faced with a strange roommate, orientation, their first registration, and rush, hardly had time to become excited about their new experience because of that ugly little creature called fear gnawing in their stomachs. While, at the same time, upperclassmen, seemed completely unmoved by the whole situation.

But everyone soon began to feel at home at their "home away from home." The Welcome Rebel dance on the downtown square in Oxford, with Rebel yells led by the cheerleaders, the parade downtown, and Bill Justice providing the music, assured the newcomers that they had little to fear at Ole Miss.

Freshman orientation—but why is it that the hallowed Ole Miss "traditions" instilled by the Cardinal Club have to be covered with a beanie?

Sorority rush was the week of ice-water, little cookies, Ipana smiles and "Small talk." It was the week of moments of disappointment mixed with happiness and extreme indecision. It was the week when rushees dressed from head to toe in new fall finery; while sorority houses fairly rocked after each party with such comments as, "Yall, we've just got to get that girl!" and "She's from a lovely family—rush her!"

Fraternity rush was perhaps a little more dignified—with less "Small Talk" and more "Man Talk." Sessions after rush parties were less frantic but long and brutal, with their "Golden Boys" and black balls.

All thoughts of studies and books were put aside during this week as rushers compared rushees, and rushees compared frats. After bids were delivered and pledge pins acquired, we listlessly picked up our books and trudged slowly back to classes.

How would you like to be "Alice in ChiO-land"?

Clean shirts and clean-shaven heads—both were much in evidence as rushees gathered for transporting to frat houses for "soft drinks, cookies, and cigarettes in broken packages."

Sleepless nights

To be a good student, you must be a good reader. This is a good habit to get into early in life.

You'd think we'd gone to college to learn something, the way professors assigned outside work, term papers, themes, projects, and tests!

Each semester began the same way: we'd come back to school with all intentions of keeping up with assignments from day to day, taking thorough notes in class and not day-dreaming through every lecture, and not cutting any class unless it was vitally necessary. But each semester we ended up cramming and working at the very last minute; all our resolutions and praiseworthy scholastic goals forgotten. But those who did stick it out with their books found compensation in the many honoraries and awards for above-average scholastic achievement. Those, however, who came to Ole Miss thinking it would be one long party were in for an abrupt awakening. Just ask the ex-students who woke up too late!

Grill service is ALWAYS quite prompt

Grill Hounds, freshman girls, football players, music majors, everybody met in the grill! Full of bop music, smoke, and chatter, the grill was the center for campus gossip and was an unofficial lost-and-found. Here you might find any number of lost articles—shoes, frat pins, scarves, even crew-neck sweaters—in the coffee pot, of course. Moreover, the grill was one of the few places in the world where so many people got a grilled cheese sandwich and a doughnut for breakfast. If we weren't asleep, and we weren't in class, we were in the grill!

Along with her duties as hostess of the Student Union Building, Mrs. Callon is always ready to help. She understands young people and likes to talk with students.

Majorettes brought color, precision, and glamor to the half-time activities.

The cheerleaders found nothing to cheer about at this crucial point.

Football meant color, excitement, noise, parties, and spirit(s). On game days, the campus was either stretched many times beyond its normal population, filled with noise and excitement, or deserted, empty and silent, as we followed the team out of town.

Home games brought a multitude of brightly colored automobiles parked in every empty space—in the grove, on the lawns of buildings, in all parking lots—reaching to the highway on one side and Oxford on the other. Each car had carried several fans in addition to a conglomeration of food, blankets, field glasses, thermos bottles, and little bottles in sacks. Before the game, many ate their lunches under the trees; others crowded into the cafeteria and the restaurants of Oxford. But as the game began, only the stadium contained life. After elaborate pre-game team activities, bands marched, the loudspeaker blared, and we stood for the national anthem and the invocation. Then play began, and for two and a half hours, broken only by the precisions and color of the band at halftime, we were alternately thrilled, frightened, and amused but never bored.

And we cheered—cheered as the Rebels won all at the beginning of the season, cheered even in defeat at Memphis, traveled to Memphis again and cheered even more as Ole Miss defeated favored Tennessee to gain a high national ranking, cheered at Starkville even in disappointment and cheered loudest and longest in New Orleans on Jan. 1, 1958 as the Rebels humbled Texas to become—Sugar Bowl Champions, 1958.

Dizzy Dean was there; the Governor was there; the legislature was there; Ole Miss Rebels and LSU Tigers packed Hemingway Stadium to the brim as our Rebels edged the Tigers in the Ole Miss annual Homecoming game. At halftime Pat Cousins, surrounded by eight ladies-in-waiting, and her maid of honor, Jan Priester, was crowned queen. That night she reigned at the Homecoming Dance, which was the grand finale to a weekend of festivities.

The night before was the night of the bonfire and pep rally, led by Ole Miss cheerleaders. Saturday morning judges voted Phi Kappa Psi and Kappa Delta as the "best" frat and sorority decorations and Ricks as the best dorm.

The Old South rose again as Ole Miss officially proclaimed the advent of Dixie Week and formally seceded from the Union. Rebels donned beards, sideburns, string-ties, and Confederate hats, and some even kept slaves bought at the slave market to serve them. The week was crammed with activities: mule races, hog-calling contest, jitter-bug contest, beard-growing contest, service for the Confederate dead, election of Miss Ole Miss and Colonel Rebel—everything Southern-fried, of course. Buena Lee English and Leroy Reed were chosen Miss Ole Miss and Colonel Rebel and were king and queen of the Old South. Every hair was in place; every nose was perfectly powdered; every dress fit wrinklelessly—as favorites and beauties went on parade. The spotlight in Fulton Chapel reflected 67 of Ole Miss' loveliest coeds passing in review as a part of the Dixie Week celebration.

The Seven Saints Orchestra played dreamy music as each of the girls was presented against a background of typical Southern mansion columns. The audience voted; the results were tabulated; and 20 girls were chosen as Ole Miss favorites, and 15 as beauties, from which 5 top beauties would be later chosen.

The Christmas spirit crept into every corner of the campus—the dorms, frat and sorority houses, even a little found its way into the dusty, chalky classrooms. Rebels felt its presence as they decorated dorms and houses, sang Christmas carols, threw big parties and dances and looked forward to the Sugar Bowl game. They also participated in the spirit of Christmas giving, as various organizations contributed boxes for needy families and held parties for underprivileged children.

The biggest present Santa brought us was Ole Miss' Sugar Bowl bid, which was more than eagerly accepted. Consequently, many, many Ole Miss students had their "blasts" at Pat O'Brien's or the 500 Club.

Ole Miss just wouldn't be Ole Miss without its parties, dances, and date suppers. From Red-Neck and Hoedown parties, where the proper attire was Stevens work-clothes and beat-up straw hats, all the way to formal balls, for which girls donned hoop skirts and rhinestones and boys wore tuxes and patent leather shoes; we had a "blast" at every social event of any sort.

Even though we didn't sit lazily in the grove drinking mint juleps and commenting heatedly on those "damn Yankees," we really displayed our Southern heritage in our tremendous enjoyment of parties. Just the mere mention of a party at Ole Miss meant "Let's go!"

Fraternities and sororities competed for booth prizes, and the highly esteemed title of ugliest man on campus was eagerly sought. A queen, chosen to succeed Eone Chatham, was presented to her subjects at the Rebelee dance which ended Rebelee of 1958, successful as ever.

THE UNIVERSITY ...SCHOOLS

... ADMINISTRATION

Proof of the quality of an administration of a university can probably be best observed in the quality of the students the college produces.

With this in mind, the number of Rhodes scholars from Ole Miss is surely "proof of the pudding." The administration at the University is rated high in both quality and quantity. The ratio of instructors with a doctorate to students is higher than any other southern university. Also, the faculty is relatively large enough to provide small classes for students.

Mississippians have reason to be proud of their well-organized, efficiently-directed University. Its administrators work as a functioning unit, having always in mind a common purpose, which is the good of the students. Here, the annual pays tribute to that unit, the University administration.

J. P. COLEMAN

Governor Coleman, an alumnus of the University of Mississippi, typifies the outstanding qualities found in Ole Miss graduates everywhere. His success story demonstrates a rise to eminence in national affairs as well as in state politics. He has continually shown a keen interest in the educational problems of the state and has done much to aid the schools.

Born and grew up on a farm in Choctaw County, the oldest of a family of six children.

Entered the University of Mississippi, September, 1932, with $3.60 cash in hand. Worked entire way, sweeping floors, washing dishes, delivering papers, and doing any other honorable work that could be had. Elected President of his class and served two years on the University Debating Team.

Served as Congressional Secretary in Washington from January 3, 1935 to January 3, 1939, and attended night classes at the George Washington University Law School. Speaker of the Little Congress, 1935.

Passed the Mississippi State Bar Examination, February, 1937. Received Law Degree from George Washington University, February 22, 1939.

Appointed Attorney for the Board of Supervisors of Choctaw County, October, 1938, and for the Town of Ackerman, June, 1939, and served continuously in those capacities until January 1, 1947.

Elected District Attorney, 5th District, August, 1939, and re-elected in August, 1943.

Elected Circuit Judge at the age of thirty-two years, July 2, 1946.

Appointed to the Supreme Court for a four-year term September 1, 1950.

Resigned that position on October 23, 1950, in order to accept appointment as Attorney General, for which he had not been an applicant. Chief reason, to handle the Willie McGee case.

Re-elected Attorney General without opposition, 1951.

Conducted successful fight for the seating of the Mississippi Delegation in the Democratic Convention of 1952, Chicago.

Member of the Baptist Church since fourteen years of age, and a deacon since twenty-two. Master Mason since the age of twenty-two, twice Master of Ackerman Lodge 119, F. & A. M. Married. One son, 18 years of age. Owns and operates a farm in Choctaw County. Same land on which the Colemans settled in 1835.

Elected Governor in 1955 at the age of forty-one, defeating four other candidates. Inauguration as Governor of Mississippi on January 17, 1956 for a four-year term.

THE GOVERNOR OF MISSISSIPPI

CHANCELLOR OF THE UNIVERSITY

A MESSAGE FROM DR. WILLIAMS

The purposes of the University of Mississippi are:

1. To provide the facilities and opportunities for a thorough, sound, and well-balanced liberal education;
2. To provide the facilities for professional education that will be consistent with the highest standards of the profession;
3. To encourage research on problems that are or may become of primary concern and interest to the people of the state and nation;
4. To make its facilities available to the public to the end that the economic, social, and spiritual welfare of the people of the state will be improved.

The University of Mississippi is the servant of all of the people of the state. It accepts the discipline of truth as discovered by free men. It has the social conscience necessary to ennoble the human spirit. It mobilizes ideas for the progress of society. It is always working for the advancement of human welfare.

You who are graduating are its products. You know her best and respect her most. All your Alma Mater asks in return is your understanding of her purposes, your active and loyal support of her worthy activities, and your sharing joyfully in her achievements.

I cannot conceive of a finer opportunity than that of having been associated with you. I trust that you have received in full measure all of the benefits and blessings that living on this campus could provide you. We fervently hope you will keep in touch with the University throughout the years. Our interest is with you always.

J. D. WILLIAMS, Chancellor

Under Chancellor J. D. Williams the events of the last decade have truly followed in a tradition of Quality, Integrity, and Progress.

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS

The College of Liberal Arts was founded in 1848 as the basis for the University which began solely as a liberal arts school. It offers a broad and comprehensive course of study including most areas of knowledge in the humanities and in the physical, biological, and social sciences. Pursuing a general education, students may acquire intellectual and civic competence; lay the broad foundation needed for specialized training in law, medicine, theology, and other professional fields; and prepare themselves for advanced study, research, and teaching in the humanities and sciences.

The College has instituted a Scholars' program to provide special instruction for superior students. These students are chosen on the basis of their college Aptitude tests and their performance at the University during their freshman year.

The Dean of the College of Liberal Arts is Dr. A. B. Lewis.

The School of Law is accredited by the Association of American Law Schools and the American Bar Association. Its graduates are entitled to practice in any law court of the state without further examination. The three-year program of study offers a thorough grounding in the principles of jurisprudence together with actual practice of legal procedures. An emphasis on Mississippi law and practice does not prevent students from becoming familiar with the American and Anglo-Saxon legal tradition as a whole.

Along with the Mississippi State Bar Association, the Law School publishes the Mississippi Law Journal.

Two leading legal fraternities, Delta Phi and Phi Alpha Delta, have chapters on the campus.

SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING

This school is inspected for accreditation by the Engineers' Council for Professional Development, and belongs to the American Society for Engineering Education, Engineering College Research Council, and The Engineering College Administrative Council.

It was organized in 1900 and offers an integrated program of four, five, and six year curricula connected with other departments of the University. In the new Engineering building there are facilities for an extremely diversified training in Engineering, with new machinery and technical equipment being added constantly.

The Dean of the School of Engineering is Dr. Frederic H. Kellogg.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

The School of Education, which was founded in 1903, is accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education and is a member of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education. Its primary function is to improve the schools of Mississippi by training teachers and administrators for their profession and by providing various educational services to the schools of the state. The University High School, Oxford City Schools, Canton, Clarksdale, and Tupelo City School Systems offer laboratories for gaining practical experience under the supervision of skilled teachers.

In accordance with the desire of the School of Education to keep up to date in all matters pertaining to education, the same department now boasts a well equipped Audio-Visual Education Laboratory, which provides services to Public Schools and various organizations and departments of the University. This school developed with the public school system and is now still serving and improving the system.

SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

In 1903, the School of Medicine was founded by a special act of the Board of Trustees, and offered only the first two years of a four-year course. Because of opposition of physicians throughout the state to a medical school located away from a large city, this school met with much difficulty during its early years.

Today, with the vast facilities of the new Medical School in Jackson, a dream has come true. Subsequently, the course of study has been lengthened to include the complete course of four years and the enrollment has greatly increased as more and more students are taking advantage of the opportunities offered here.

The Ole Miss Medical Center accepts responsibility for training, research, service, and leadership in the preservation of life and promotion of health for this and future generations.

SCHOOL OF PHARMACY

The School of Pharmacy was established at the University in 1908, and celebrates the 50th anniversary this year. The present chemistry and pharmacy building was dedicated in 1923 and has served continuously since then. Students in the School of Pharmacy, however, receive instruction in many other campus buildings. The top floor of the Science Building was completely refinished in the summer of 1957 and serves as a new laboratory facility for instruction in physiology and pharmacology.

The school is accredited by the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education as a Class A school of pharmacy. Each year junior and senior students in pharmacy make a field trip to visit one or more of the major pharmaceutical manufacturing laboratories in order to gain information about large scale production of medicinal agents.

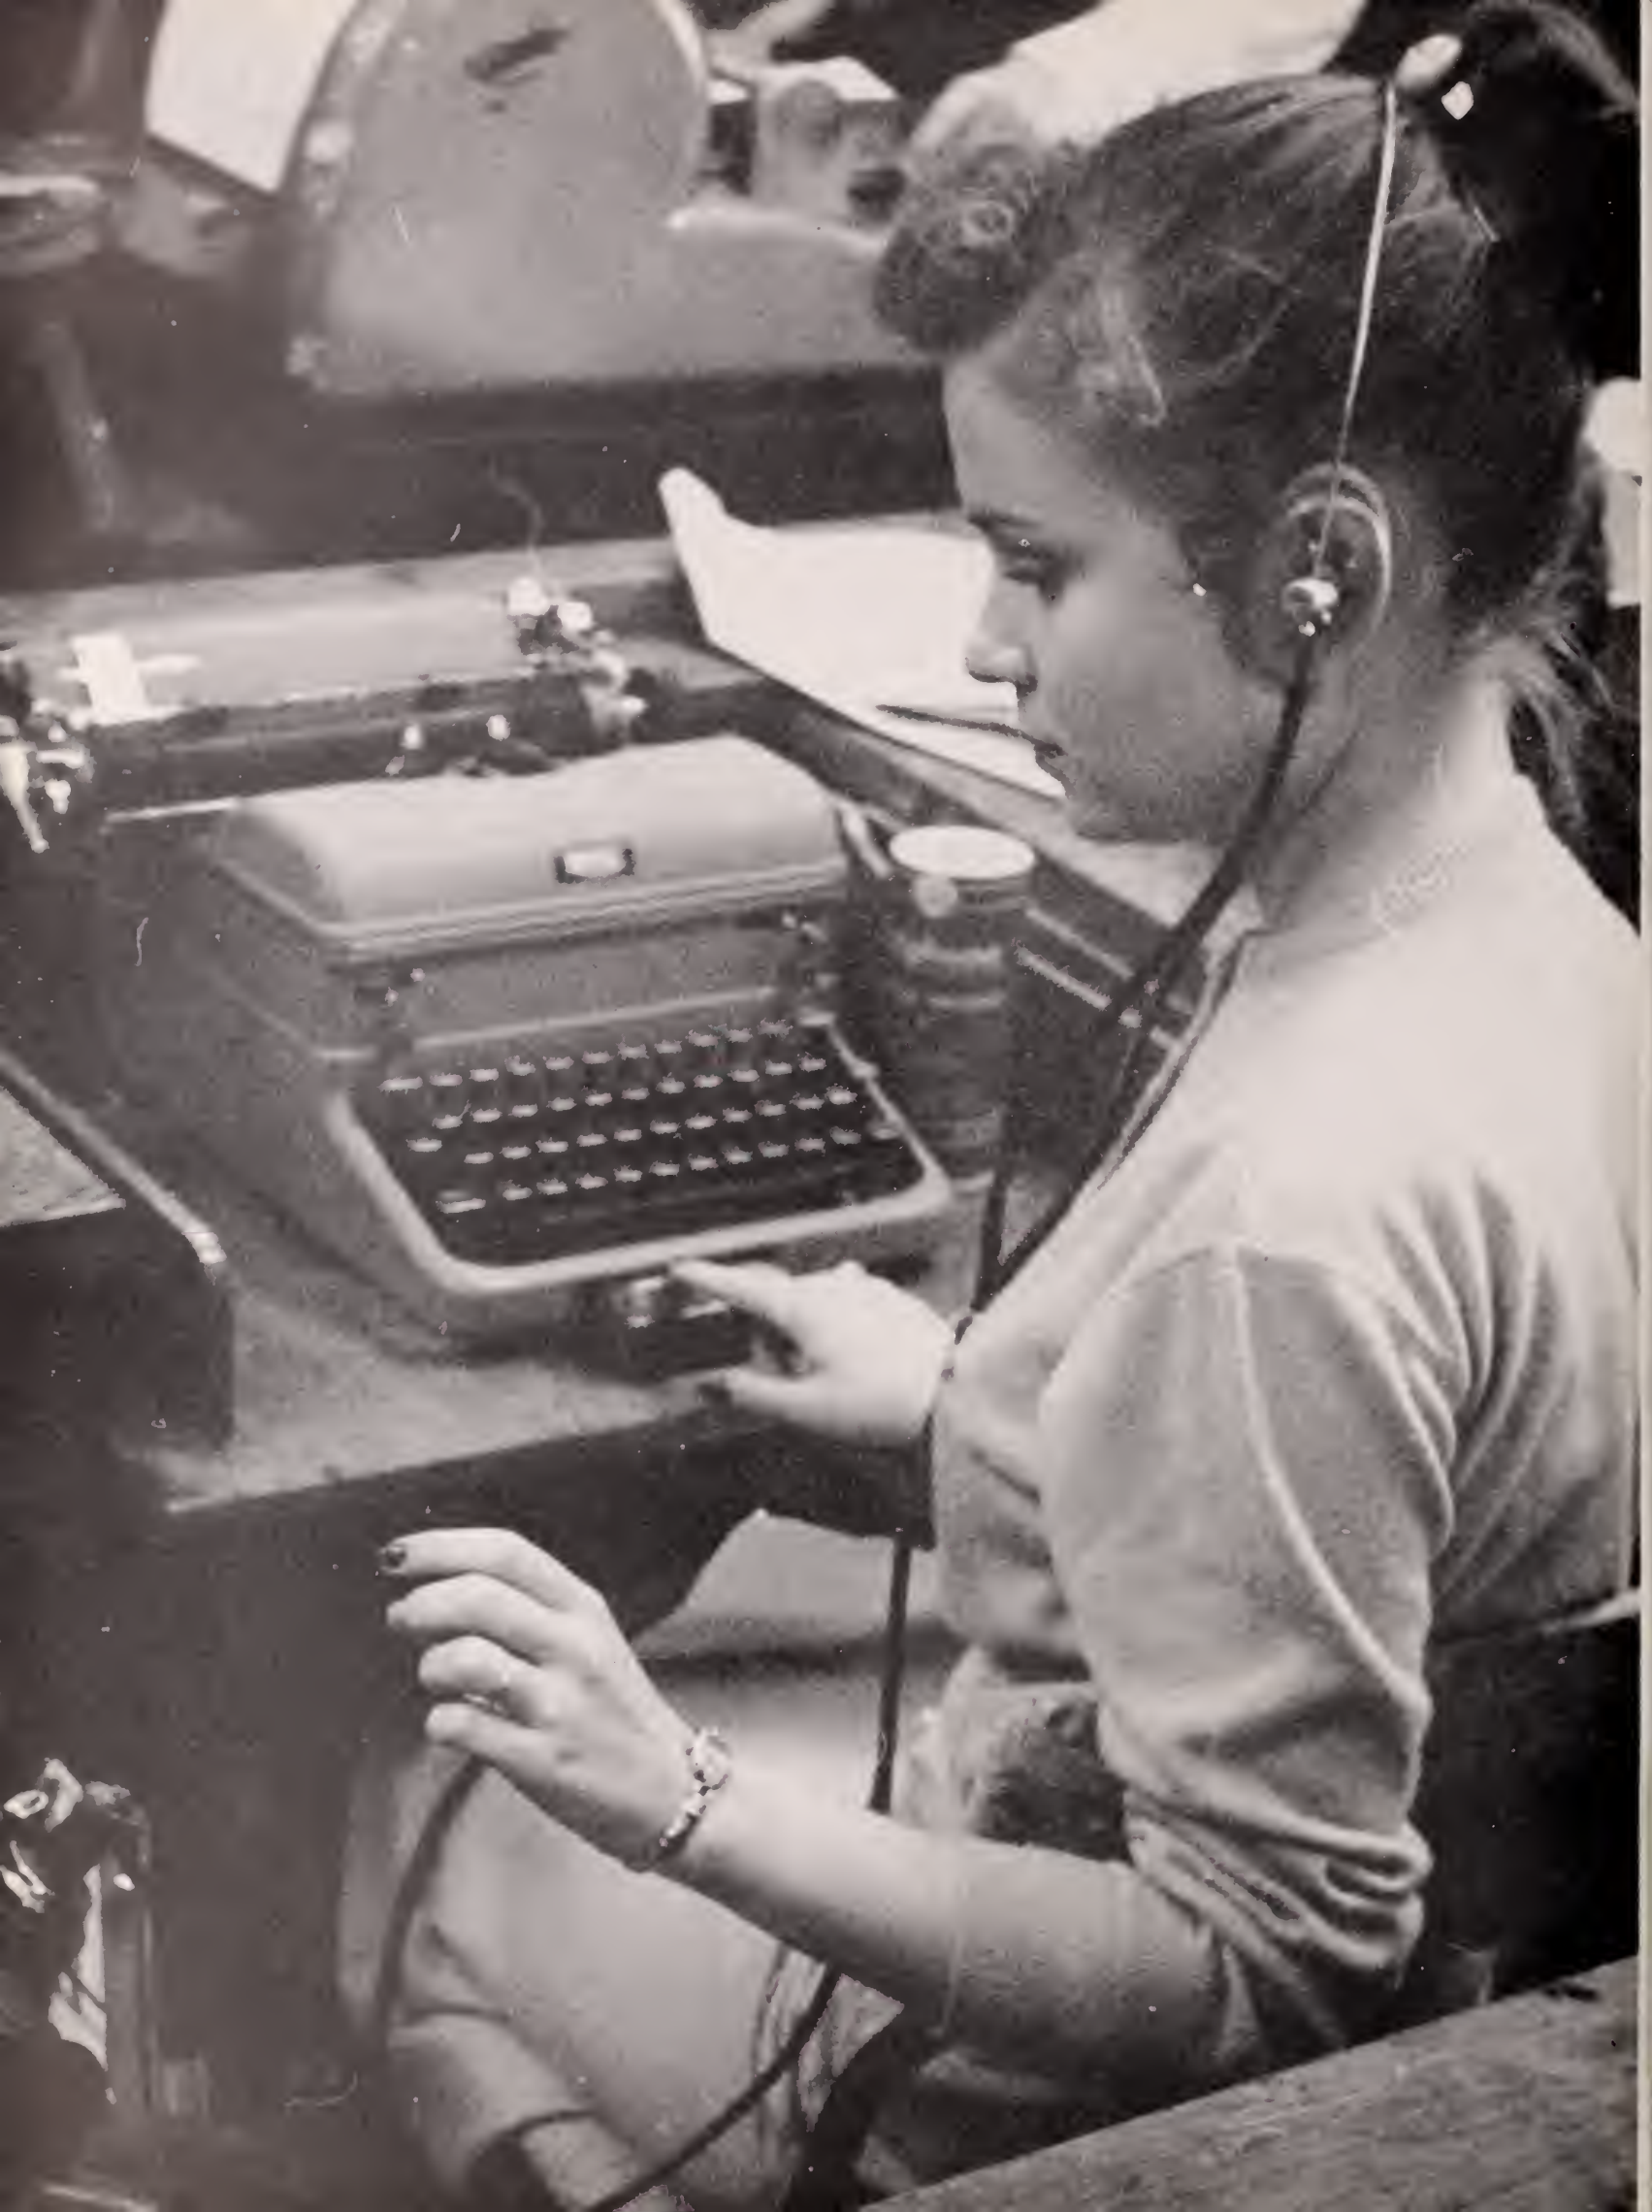

The Dean of Pharmacy School is E. L. Hammond, who has just completed his 30th year in this capacity.

SCHOOL OF COMMERCE AND BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

1871 was the first year that bookkeeping courses were taught at the University as a division, but the division did not play a significant role in the curriculum. In 1917, the department broadened to become the Business School which had the largest growth of the University departments, second only to Liberal Arts.

The primary function of this school is to teach students the basic knowledge they will need for an administrative career in business or government, and to begin the development of their proficiency in the application of such knowledge. As complementary functions, the School undertakes research in appropriate areas and provides related services to business and governmental units.

In 1944 this school became a member of the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business, which is the accrediting agency in the field of business. The curricula is designed both for those who plan to operate their own businesses and for those who plan to occupy responsible positions in the administration of business and governmental units.

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

Honorary M. A. degrees were conferred on distinguished graduates from 1848 until 1970; however the present Graduate School was not established until 1927.

The centers of the graduate studies are the Alexander L. Bondurant Graduate Building and the University's new million dollar library. Carrels for the individual use of graduate students, and seminar rooms for graduate classes are provided, with special collections and libraries available.

In 1955 the University was authorized to develop doctoral programs in some ten fields, which broadened the graduate studies considerably.

The Ole Miss Associated Student Body was our student government. And at Ole Miss the cooperation of the administration made the words

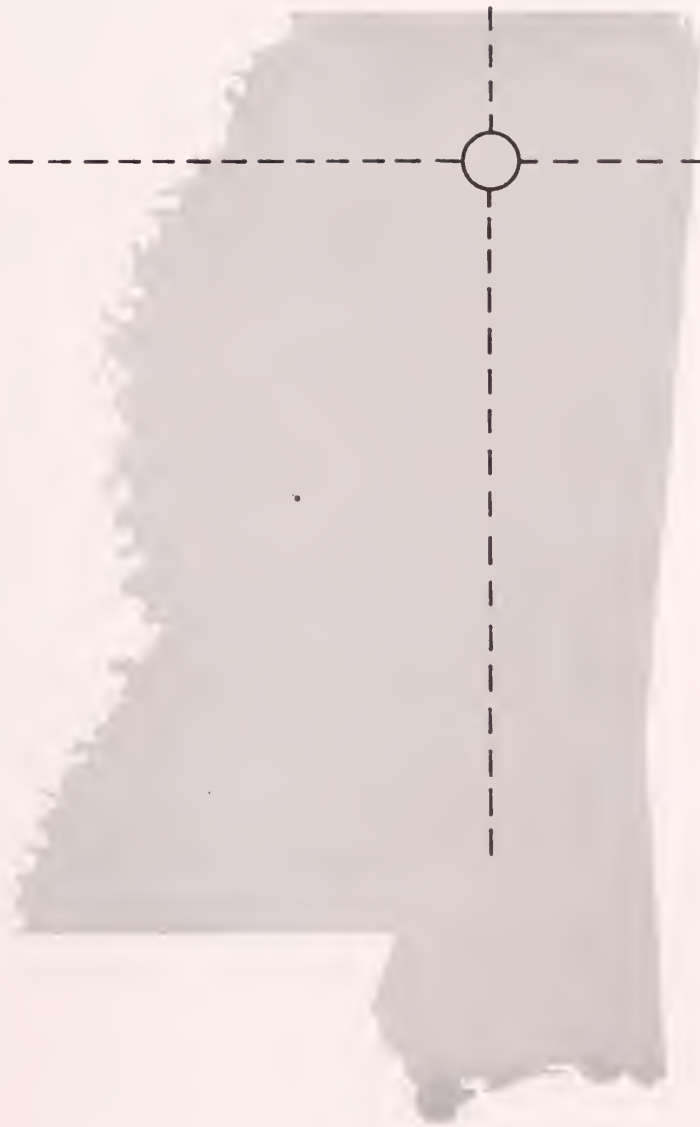

"student government" really mean something.

The President and his cabinet made up the executive branch of the A.S.B.

The Campus Senate was the legislative branch, and the Judicial Council made up the Judiciary. The Women's Student Government Association gave the women a chance to handle many of their affairs independently.

There were other campus activities in which student participation was welcome.

The OLE MISS and the "Mississippian," the yearbook and the newspaper, were run by the students and were designed for the students. Then there were the University Players, who, throughout the year, presented Broadway plays. This section records student activities in politics, press, and play.

President of the Associated Student Body

The Associated Student Body Government is headed by President Brad Dye. It is his duty to see that all laws of the Constitution are carried out and to promote the general welfare of the students.

The vice-president is Ray Mikell, who serves as the President of the Senate. Mary Ann Strong, the Secretary, records the minutes of the Campus Senate meetings, and James D. Bennett, as Treasurer, keeps account of all funds disbursed through student activities.

The president appoints his cabinet, who help him in his executive duties. The Judicial Council has one elected member to serve as Chairman. The others are appointed by the President of the ASB.

The Student Judicial Council is the University's Supreme Court, consisting of five students. This Council has the jurisdiction to hear and decide all matters relative to the interpretations of the ASB Constitution and to determine the constitutionality of any laws that are passed by the Campus Senate. The Judicial Council also serves in a disciplinary capacity.

The Campus Senate is the legislative body for the University students. This body controls all matters which are delegated to the student body by the Administration, and sets the policies for all student body activities in order that they may be conducted for the best interest of the student body as a whole.

The Senate is composed of one member from each section of every dormitory, each fraternity and sorority house, each district in Veteran's Village, two members for the Oxford students, and the president of each of the seven schools at the University. The Chancellor, the Provost, the Dean of the Division of Student Personnel, the Comptroller, the Dean of each school or their representatives, and a representative of the Oxford Chamber of Commerce also serve as members of the Senate.

The President of the Senate is Ray Mikell and the Secretary is Mary Ann Strong, both of whom are elected by the student body. The President Pro Tempore is Bill Fondren, and the Sergeant-at-Arms is Herb Fischer.

These two officers are elected by the Senators. The President appointed the Parliamentarian, Jim Yelverton, and the Chaplain, Julius Collum.

WOMEN'S STUDENT GOVERNMENT

PAT LINN
President of the WSGA, first semester

Composed of every women student on the campus, the Women's Student Government Association is headed by an executive council of four officers and a judicial committee of four students who are elected by popular vote each year. The Women's Student Government Association works in whole-hearted cooperation with the Dean of Women and all administrative officials to enforce the observance of all University policies and regulations.

A House Council is elected in each dormitory. These councils, composed of a president, a secretary, and representatives from each of the floors in the dormitory with the help of the Judicial Council, are responsible for the enforcement of dormitory and social regulations. These rules and regulations are subject to be changed, with the approval of the Dean of Women, by a Legislative Council made up of dormitory presidents and secretaries.

The Women's Student Government Association at Ole Miss is a member of the Mississippi Association of Student Governments for Women and also of the Southern Association of Women's Student Governments.

1958 OLE MISS

BUSINESS STAFF? Gregory's Gargoyles. Too dignified to be pictured: Johnny Hoar.

Writing the last copy for a publication gives one a sense of relief which is impossible to describe. Only a person who has been through it can realize the significance of such an occasion. With just the proofreading ahead, I can look over the year free from pressure and review the many hours of pleasure as well as work involved in such an operation.

It was truly a memorable experience to watch the annual materialize from a barren dummy layout to the finished product through the untiring efforts of the staff members, especially Dave Cox, whose unperturbed work accounted for most of the photographs. It took only an occasional nudge to get them all to the grindstone—class section, copy, pictures, copy, etc.

Neal also utilized his staff to the fullest in keeping the OLE MISS on a sound financial basis, in preparing the Military Section, and in keeping the Greeks and organizations straight. Ads, organization contracts, running to Cofield's for "one more picture," etc. is enough to drive anyone crazy; but they seemed to come through it all right. (I guess.)

It has been quite a year, and we only hope that we have succeeded in presenting as much of it as possible in this '58 OLE MISS. Yes, it's been REAL, but to use the words of Joni James, "Bye Mis'sippi."

There's a tremendous amount of work involved in putting out a paper. Demonstration by Business Manager, Jimmy Johnson and Editor, Neil Woodruff.

The business staff takes a coke break as they read a copy of the "Mississippian" hot off the press.

THE MISSISSIPPIAN

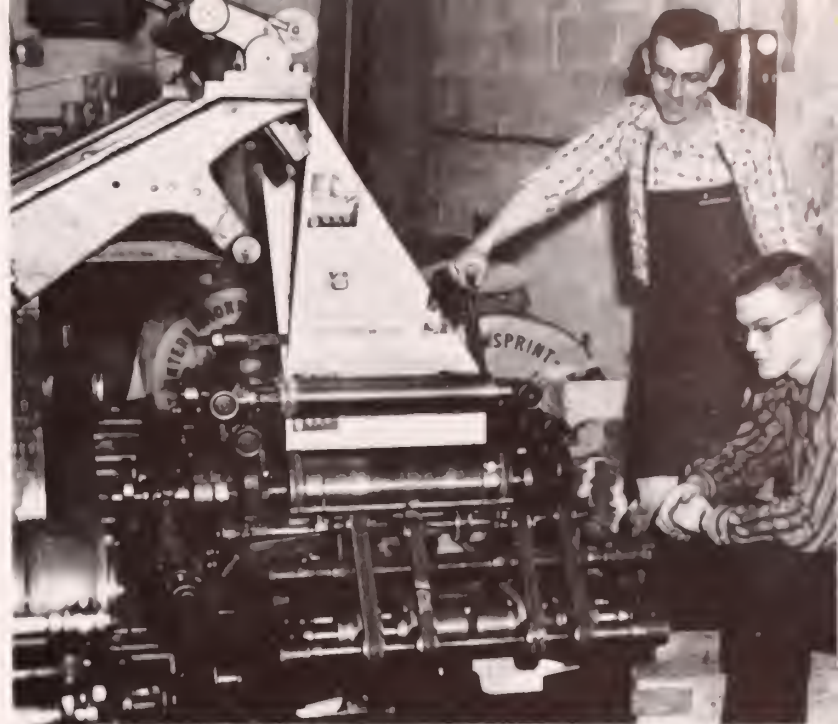

THE MISSISSIPPIAN, weekly news sheet published for the students of the University, completed its forty-seventh year of publication this semester. The paper was distributed to all residence buildings on the campus each Friday afternoon, except during examination and holiday periods, by circulation manager Cliff Hodges and assistants Billy Watt, John Adler, and Dave Bartusek.

A frantic flurry of motions went into the compilation of the paper prior to its delivery to the students. Editor Neil Woodruff directed the staff toward high journalistic goals. Action started each Sunday evening with a staff meeting consisting of Managing Editor Travis Stallworth, News Editor Marian Sykes, Sports Editor Earl Soloman, Assistant Editor Larry Franck, Society Editor Joyce Darby, Picture Editor Elmore Povall, and Director of Features Maxine Wilson.

Editorial staff writers Rudy Abramson, Gale Denley, and Tom Hederman bolstered the editorial content of the paper and presented sound comment for student consumption. Carolyn Hailes assisted Joyce Darby with the society news. David Bickerstaff was a stalwart as assistant sports editor, helped out by Sam Schur and Mike Thro. Larry Speakes did excellent reporting and served as assistant News Editor. Other reporters included Carol Joyner, Alicia Harper, Carlene Myers, Stan Dearman, Stanley Ivy, Suzanne Parent, Henry Petersen, and Julia Fite. Credit for the excellent feature content of the paper should go to feature writers Beverly Smith, Maxine Wilson, Sandra Nichols, Melinda Gwin, and Champ Terney.

Jimmy Johnson, business manager with an eye for a buck, kept the paper out of the red. But it wasn't easy. He cut every corner he could and the paper broke even. Johnson was ably assisted by bookkeeper Billy Watt and Secretary Joyce Tally.

Fred Trexler, Jr. hounded Oxford merchants for advertising during the first semester and did an extraordinary job of it. Jan Holmes and Malcolm Dale took over the advertising manager duties from Trexler the second semester and did a bit of high-pressured soliciting to carry the paper through to a financially successful year. Bob Moore and Jack Ewing were excellent leg men, doing a great deal of the actual contact and selling of ads.

THE MISSISSIPPIAN sponsored the Hall of Fame, but relinquished the Miss University contest to the Associated Student Body. As the OLE MISS went to press, Woodruff was eagerly awaiting the results of how the MISSISSIPPIAN finished in the Associated Collegiate Press Honor Ratings. Hopes were high that the MISSISSIPPIAN would come out with the top honor, "All-American," for the second time in Ole Miss History.

The editorial staff meets the deadline on Wednesday night.

The Mississippi Law Journal, which was established in 1928, is the official publication of the Mississippi State Bar. Under the auspices of the Bar, it is published four times a year by the students in the School of Law at the University of Mississippi.

Although the editorial staff is composed of students who write some of the articles for the Law Journal, most of the material is written by attorneys from all parts of the country.

The Mississippi Law Journal reviews outstanding litigations as well as current treatises on the general subject of law. Besides the articles by eminent writers on legal subjects, notes and comments written by students on recent decisions, and other matters of interest to the legal profession, the Law Journal publishes the proceedings of the annual meeting of the Mississippi State Bar Association.

MISSISSIPPI LAW JOURNAL

MOOT COURT BOARD

The Moot Court Board is composed of students in the School of Law. These students are chosen by the faculty for their high scholastic record. By providing experience in the way which they must conduct themselves in the actual court room procedure and in the handling of the general office work, the board gives the law students excellent practice which is very important. Through the arrangement of the Board, participants are able to try "mock" cases.

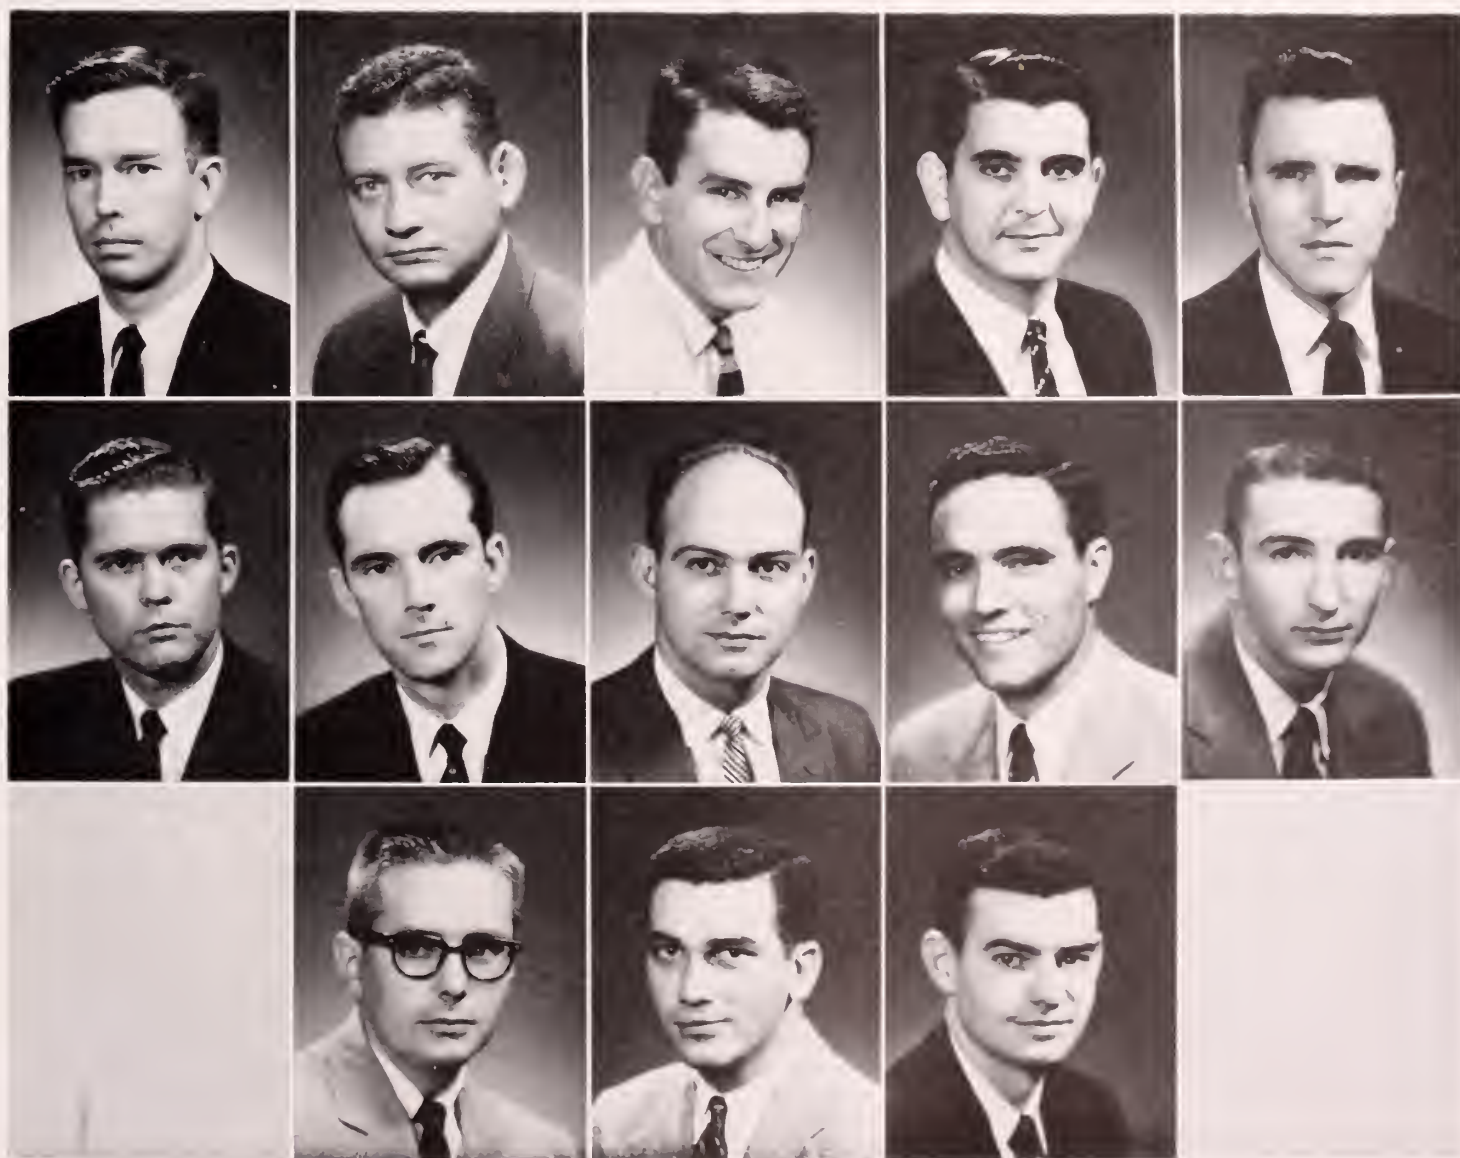

In addition to conducting trials, the students prepare briefs and argue appellate cases. Usually the judge in the trial is either an advanced student, a faculty member, or a practicing lawyer or judge. In appellate cases, Professor Joel W. Bunkley serves as faculty advisor, while Bramlett Roberts is the advisor to the general practice division.

Frank Hunger, Chairman of the ASB Dance Committee, and Deanna Durham present Joni James with a Rebel Hat.

The Associated Student Body Dance Committee is responsible for bringing name bands and top singers to the Ole Miss campus, planning and preparing dances, and providing representatives to all campus-wide dances who act as a floor committee.

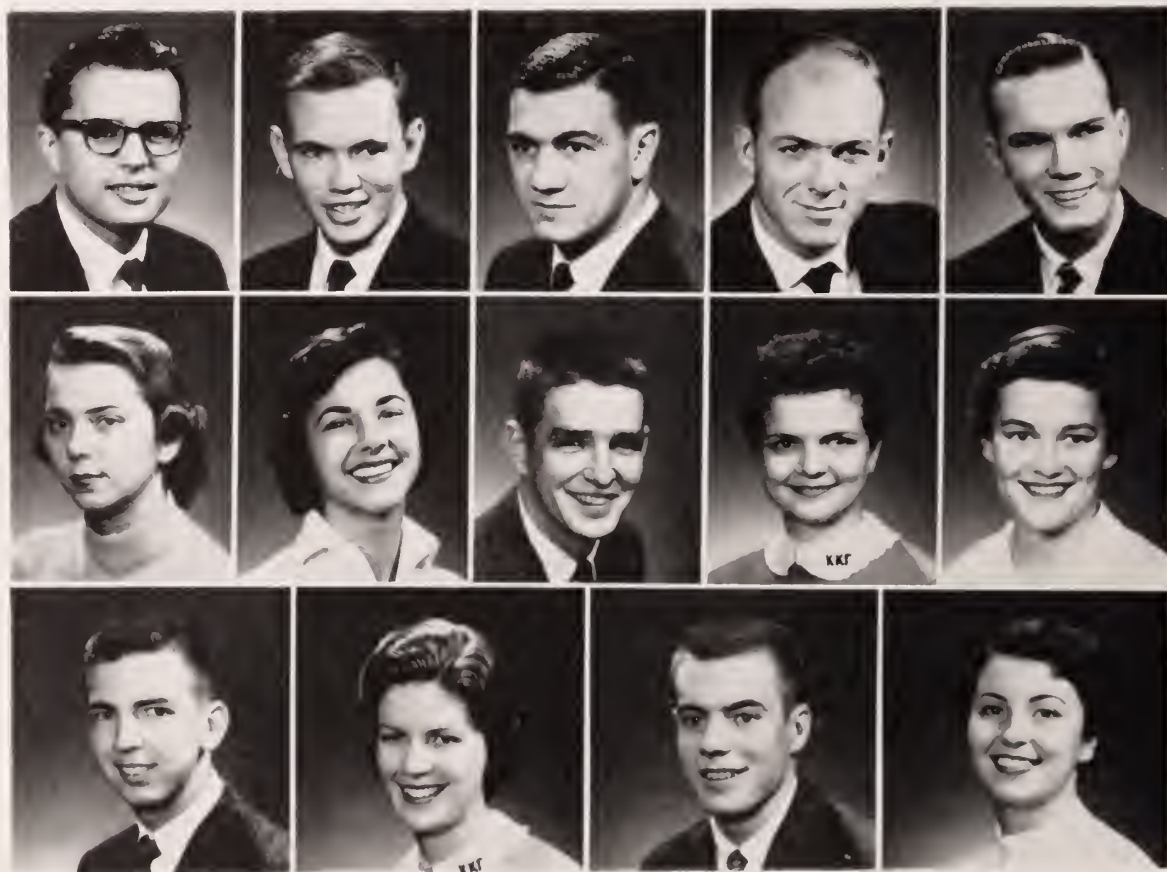

Entertainment, of course, assumes an important place in the lives of all Ole Miss students, and the dance committee, led by Frank Hunger, works hard to provide the best for the students.

Early in the fall Benny Goodman's orchestra directed by Erbie Green played to enthusiastic fans. Joni James drew a capacity crowd for her excellent February performance. The Four Freshmen were scheduled for a spring concert.

Dances were sponsored after the two home football games. Duke Huddleston played after the Hardin-Simmons game while Philip Reynolds played for the Homecoming Dance following the L.S.U. clash. The Red Tops performed for Dixie Week festivities.

Dance and floor committee members are chosen by the chairman, who is appointed by the ASB president, and are subject to final approval by the president. The outstanding efforts of this years' group have earned high praise.

University Players cast rehearse a scene from "Ghosts" by Henrik Ibsen.

The University Players under the direction of Dr. Charles M. Getchell assisted by Dr. Joseph Baldwin and sponsored by the Speech Department have established an outstanding record of drama work. This year they have entertained and pleased University audiences with a varied and intriguing list of productions.

Max Shulman's and Robert Paul Smith's "The Tender Trap" proved a delightful opener for the 1957-58 season followed in great contrast by "The Crucible" by Arthur Miller.

Performed in the Little Theater of the Fine Arts Center, Henrik Ibsen's "problem play," "Ghosts," was the players next undertaking.

The versatility of the Players was further illustrated in their next production, "School for Husbands" by Moliere.

STARS... TEAMWORK

...ATHLETICS

The huge stadium was filled. The game began like any other. The captains met in the middle of the field, tossed a coin, took a choice. We stood for the national anthem. But this game was different. It was the Sugar Bowl—perfect climax to a near-perfect season.

Basketball followed football (and who will ever forget the night in our old, overcrowded gym when mighty State fell before the Rebels. Tennis, baseball, and golf were the other intercollegiate sports.

Because of the time limit, last year's teams are shown in these latter sports.

Although most of us had to be satisfied with the intramural program or with "spectating," sports activities were an important part of our life at Ole Miss.

Therefore, this section is included to record those activities.

Measured over his coaching span at Ole Miss, a total of 11 seasons since 1947, Johnny Vaught's record is fifth-best in the nation. Within the Rebels' combat area, the Southeastern Conference, the record is second only to George Tech. Nationally, Vaught's regular-season totals of 79 victories, 24 defeats and six ties for .752 are shadowed only by Oklahoma (.912), Michigan State (.792), Notre Dame (.780), and Tech (.757).

Tech's SEC record of 54-17-3 and .750 compares with Ole Miss' 46-17-5 and .713. But the Engineers and third-ranking Tennessee (39-20-5, .648) trail in the matter of league championships captured since '47, both winning and half-sharing against the Mississippi total of three. In addition to conference titles in 1947-54-55, Vaught-coached teams finished second in 1948-53-57, third in 1951-52, and fourth in 1956.

THE REBEL COACHING STAFF

Vaught is a native of Olney and Fort Worth, Texas. He was an All-Southwest Conference guard at Texas Christian in 1931-32, was All-America and captain of a championship team in '32. He served as line coach at North Carolina in 1936-41, at N.C. Preflight in 1942, Corpus Christi NAS in 1945, and at Ole Miss with Red Drew in 1946. He succeeded Drew in January, 1947.

The Rebels' offensive line is coached by Bruiser Kinard, who became the state's first All-American in 1936-37. He was All-Pro tackle in 1938-40-41-44 with Brooklyn and in 1946 with the New York Yankees. He is a charter member (one of 32) of the National Football Hall of Fame, and in 1950 was chosen Ole Miss' greatest all-time athlete.

Coach Buster Poole was another all-time great at Ole Miss in 1934-37. Selected as an All-Pro end with the N.Y. Giants in 1946, he is rated by many critics as the best defensive wingman ever to play pro football. After his great 1946 season he came to Ole Miss as end coach and began tutoring the defensive line in 1951.

Backfield Coach Junie Hovious was named to the all-time All-Southeastern Conference team in 1943. Returning to Ole Miss in 1946, he assisted in coaching the backs, and coached the freshman and "B" teams until 1951 when he was made defensive backfield coach. Hovious also coaches the varsity golf team.

Backfield Coach Johnny Cain is the product of the University of Alabama. An All-American in 1933, he played a part in the defeat of Washington State in the Rose Bowl in 1930. Coach Cain was made a member of the staff in 1947.

Freshman Coach Wobblie Davidson, co-captain of the 1941 Ole Miss football team, has compiled one of the most outstanding "B" team and freshman coaching records in the country. His overall record is 143-1.

With a background that includes a dozen years of college and professional football, Ray Poole returned in 1955. A 1946 All-Southeastern end in his last season with the Rebels, he went on to star for the New York Giants for six seasons where he was All-Pro, and then transferred to Montreal in the Canadian League for several seasons where he was selected to be on the league's all-star team.

As the athletic department's official contact representative, Tom Swayze is one of its most valuable staffers. He was one of Ole Miss' finest all-round athletes during the thirties, playing end in football in 1930-31-32, and left-handed baseball pitcher in 1931-32-33. In addition, Swayze is also baseball coach.

Doc Knight came to Ole Miss in 1947 as trainer and track coach. A trainer is concerned only with getting the team in good physical condition, but Doc is also famous for keeping the boys in the right frame of mind by his writings posted on their locker doors.

Coach Country Graham serves as a scout and assistant freshman coach during the football months, but his main calling is coaching Rebel basketball. Coach Graham lettered in football at end in 1936-37-38 and became Mississippi's first All-American basketball player. During his 1936-37-38 era, he set 36 Southeastern Conference scoring records, some of which still stand.

SUGAR BOWL CHAMPIONS

With a clarity of purpose, Ole Miss flattened Texas 39-7 in the 24th annual Sugar Bowl classic. It was a date—January 1, 1958—the Rebels will long remember, as will the stunned Longhorns.

Quarterback Ray Brown, the game's outstanding player by unanimous press box choice, highlighted proceedings when he ran 92 yards from punt formation for his second touchdown of the chilled afternoon. He counted the opening marker from a yard out, and passed for the second, a three-yard play, to end Don Williams.

The Rebs led 6-0 at the quarter, 19-0 at the half and 26-0 after three periods of play. The third touchdown was entered by HB Kent Lovelace on a nine-yard tour at left end. The fourth marker went to QB Bobby Franklin on a four-yard turn of the same left flank.

The Longhorns had scored midway the final quarter for 26-7 and had the Rebs, backed up by penalties, in real trouble when Brown, scheduling a punt, saw that the kick would be blocked. He set sail to his port side, drew a terrific block from FB Charlie Flowers, was in the clear and under full convoy at midfield. Afoot, he traveled 103 yards. The official yardage was 92 for the longest run ever in a Sugar Bowl game.

Raymond Brown, quarterback, received the Warren V. Miller Memorial Trophy as outstanding player in the Sugar Bowl.

The last touchdown was entered by QB Billy Brewer on a 12-yard pass to HB Tommy Taylor, ending a three-play, 33-yard push. Other Reb scoring marches covered 33, 45, 20, 52 and 96 yards. In all, there were 18 Reb first downs to 13, 304 net yards rushing to 192, 71 air yards to 14. Of vital importance were the four Texas passes swiped by OM defenders, three by Brown, and the four Longhorn fumbles claimed.

In a bowl game, Ole Miss never had it so good. Texas, a strong team, was crushed. It was the first loss for a Southwest conference representative in five Sugar Bowl games. The eyes of Texans were on Johnny Reb.

Ole Miss fans had waited 5 years for this moment; and now that it had finally arrived, they were determined to make the most of it.

The 1957 version of the Ole Miss Rebels opened their season with a 44-0 win over the Trinity at San Antonio, Texas. The game was held before 25,000 fans.

RAYMOND BROWN opened the scoring by crossing the goal-line on an eight-yard run with only three minutes played in the game. LEROY REED converted. Four minutes later, BOBBY FRANKLIN scored on a 15-yard run. With only four minutes left in the first half, KENT LOVELACE ran around his right end for 39-yards and a score.

In the second half, RAY BROWN scored again on a 15-yard run. JIMMY WOODRUFF scored twice—once on a 35-yard pass-run play and then on a nine yard run. DEWEY PARTRIDGE scored on a nine yard pass from BILLY BREWER. ROBERT KHAYAT converted after PARTRIDGE'S score.

Defensive line play was led by All American candidates GENE HICKERSON and JACKIE SIMPSON; LARRY GRANTHAM and RUDOLPH SMITH.

The Rebels used a powerful running-game along with an always terrific passing attack to open their season successfully. Ole Miss piled up 435 yards to earn national recognition as leader in the total offense and rushing departments. RAYMOND BROWN and JIMMY WOODRUFF moved to second place in the SEC scoring race. Each had 12 points.

The Ole Miss Rebels defeated the Kentucky Wildcats at Lexington, Kentucky, by the score of 15-0 before 34,000 fans. The Rebels win was the first game that Ole Miss had won in Lexington in eight years.

The first half was a tremendous defensive battle with the Rebels making three terrific goal-line stands. These stands may be called the deciding factors in the game.

On the last play of the third quarter, BOBBY FRANKLIN connected with LARRY GRANTHAM on an eight-yard pass to break the ice. The score climaxed a 60 yard drive.

Midway in the fourth quarter, RAYMOND BROWN scored the second Rebel touchdown on a seven-yard run. This drive was started when TOMMY TAYLOR intercepted a stray Kentucky pass on the Kentucky 44-yard line. The Rebels drove for the score in seven plays. LEROY REED converted.

Three minutes later RUDOLPH SMITH broke through the line to block a Kentucky punt in the end-zone for a safety to complete the scoring for the night.

The defensive play was led by All-Americans GENE HICKERSON and JACKIE SIMPSON. All SEC DON WILLIAMS, WAYNE WEST, MILTON CRAIN and WILLIE HICKERSON also played an important part in the Rebel win.

The Rebel win put them in a tie for first place in the conference standings. The Kentucky win has always indicated a good season for the Rebels.

The Rebels spotted Hardin Simmons a touchdown in the first quarter and then blazed back for a 34-7 victory. A crowd of 12,000 fans watched this Band Day performance.

Coach JOHN VAUGHT used his second and third units a great portion of the time and they performed in fine fashion. They scored three of the five touchdowns. The second team used 10 plays for 62 yards, getting the pigskin over with 3:42 left in the first quarter to tie the score. KENT LOVELACE carried the last three yards for the score and CHARLIE BURKE converted.

The first unit returned to score two touchdowns in the second quarter. One on a one yard plunge by BILL HURST with 4:33 gone and another on a pass interception and 54 yard return for the score by JACKIE SIMPSON. SIMPSON intercepted a pass that was partially deflected by CHARLIE BURKE. The Rebels scored once more in the second period on a 13 yard pass from RAYMOND BROWN to GEORGE GREGORY.

Ole Miss scored once more in the third quarter. BILLY BREWER passed to KENT LOVELACE for 10 yards and a touchdown.

Along the line, the veterans GENE HICKERSON, WAYNE WEST, and HANSON CHURCHWELL took honors for the defensive play for the Rebels.

Ole Miss made silk-smooth progress through Vanderbilt's best defenses and ran up a 28-0 score that was indicative of Southeastern Conference championship class. A crowd of 24,000 fans watched the undefeated Rebels turn the game into a rout in the second half as they out classed the Commodores.

After a bog-down on the Vandy nine, they marched back 90 yards in 11 plays to score late in the first period on a great 15 yard run by LEROY REED who also converted.

Ole Miss used only 3:17 following the second half kick-off to get its second touchdown. Ole Miss kicked off but GENE HICKERSON recovered for the Rebs on Vanderbilt's 20 on the second play from scrimmage. Four plays later BILL LOTT slanted off tackle for the score. REED added the seventh point.

Early in the fourth quarter, the Rebels marched 67 yards in 14 plays to score the third touchdown. RAYMOND BROWN passed 11 yards to DON WILLIAMS for the score to climax the drive. ROBERT KHAYAT converted from 17 yards out after a 15 yard penalty was assessed Ole Miss on the first try.

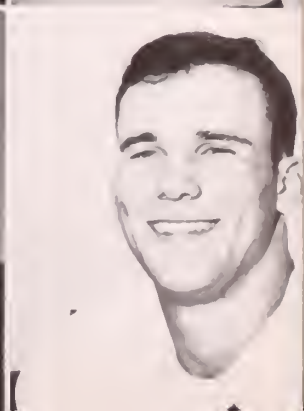

The fourth touchdown came quickly. Vandy fumbled on first down after the kick-off and BILLY PRUETT recovered on the Vanderbilt 17. Four plays later JIMMY WOODRUFF added another six points and CHARLIE BURKE added the seventh from the 7 yard line after a five yard penalty on the first try.

The Rebels dealt Tulane its worst licking in a decade, 50-0, in adding a fifth straight to its unscarred 1957 season thus far.

Quarterback RAYMOND BROWN led the Rebels attack with a total offense of 126 yards. The Rebels piled up 416 yards rushing to Tulane's 64.

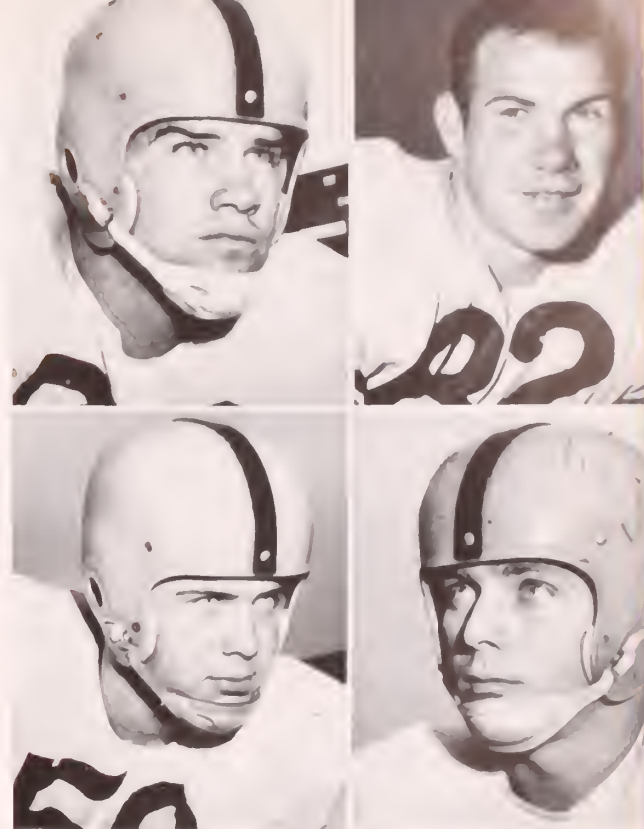

Mississippi scored the first time that it got the ball. BILL HURST ran through an inept Tulane defense on a 47 yard touchdown dash.

After that, it was just a matter of piling up points. The Rebels led at half time 26-0 and added four more touchdowns in the second half.

BILLY LOTT scored two touchdowns, one on a seven yard plunge and the other on a twelve yard crack through the vulnerable Greenie line. RAYMOND BROWN scored once on a 36 yard run and passed 12 yards to DON WILLIAMS and 7 yards to LEROY REED for two more scores. KENT LOVELACE scored on a one yard dive and JIMMY WOODRUFF scored on a six yard buck.

Co-captains GENE HICKERSON and JACKIE SIMPSON led the defensive charge that broke Tulane's back. SIMPSON intercepted a stray Tulane aerial and HICKERSON pounded on a Tulane bobble as well as spending half the night in the Tulane backfield.

The Rebels left Tulane fans little to remember of the 10-2 upset win by the Greenies last year. It could be honestly said that Ole Miss had avenged last year's defeat.

An overflow crowd of 30,000 chilled enthusiasts watched the Arkansas Razorbacks upset the high flying Rebels to the tune of 12-6. The Rebels were definitely not playing up to par and thus were handed their first 1957 setback.

Ole Miss scored with two minutes left in the first quarter on a seven yard pass from RAYMOND BROWN to LARRY GRANTHAM. The Rebels had started from the Arkansas 49 yard-line after BROWN returned an Arkansas quick kick 15 yards. The drive took eleven plays.

Arkansas came back and scored with four minutes left in the first half on a 35 yard pass play. The Razorbacks scored their second touchdown in weird fashion. An Arkansas lateral on the Rebel 25 yard line after being trapped moved the ball from the Arkansas 23 to the Rebel 3. They moved the ball over from there in four plays to score the winning touchdown.

The Rebels fought back but just could not put together enough offense to counter the defense. They did move to the Arkansas three but a fourth down and goal to go play fizzled.

Ole Miss statistically was much better making 18 first downs to Arkansas's 9 and gaining 291 yards on the ground and 53 yards by passing.

Hurst crawls over the center of the LSU line for a 3 yard gain at the Rebel Homecoming.

The Rebels defeated the Houston Cougars 20-7 in Jackson in the second half of a football doubleheader. The game was played before 30,000 fans. The victory was the Rebs' sixth in seven starts — unbeaten in SEC competition.

Ole Miss scored one fast touchdown and two belated ones to record their victory. After receiving the opening kickoff, the Rebels marched 70 yards in seven plays with BILL LOTT carrying six yards for the score. A 20-yard sprint by RAY BROWN and a 19-yard blast by BILL HURST were the big gains in the lengthy march. BOB KHAYAT converted.

Houston came back to tie the score in the second period on a one yard pass. The score climaxed a 91-yard drive.

Ole Miss threatened constantly in the second and third periods but penalties and a tight Houston defense stymied them.

The Rebs scored quickly in the fourth period, marching 53 yards in 11 plays for the tie-breaking score. BROWN scored from the one inch line after LOTT'S tremendous five yard run. KHAYAT again converted.

BOBBY FRANKLIN scored after a Houston fumble on the Houston five yard line. LARRY GRANTHAM recovered. Three plays later FRANKLIN scored from the three.

Defensive standouts were GENE HICKERSON, WAYNE WEST, DON WILLIAMS, BILL TEMPLETON, JACKIE SIMPSON and RUDOLPH SMITH.

Ole Miss gained 386 yards on the ground to retain its national leadership in the rushing department.

The Rebels learned that the foot is definitely still used in football. They gained a hard earned victory over the LSU Tigers by the score of 14-12 and the foot of Sophomore ROBERT KHAYAT. All KHAYAT did was kick two extra points but those two points proved to be the margin of victory.

Ole Miss kept the ball constantly but just could not push it across the goal line. This is emphasized in the fact that the Rebels made 21 first downs to 6 for LSU. The Rebels 82 plays as compared with only 35 for the Tigers.

The Tigers jumped into the lead late in the first quarter on a sixty yard run from scrimmage but missed the extra point. The Rebels roared back in the second quarter but could not score until BILL HURST recovered a LSU fumble on the LSU 31. From there, they marched to the goal in seven plays with RAYMOND BROWN carrying the last yard. KHAYAT kicked the important extra point.

With only two minutes left the Tigers scored again on a 53 yard punt return to move into the lead again. The half ended that way.

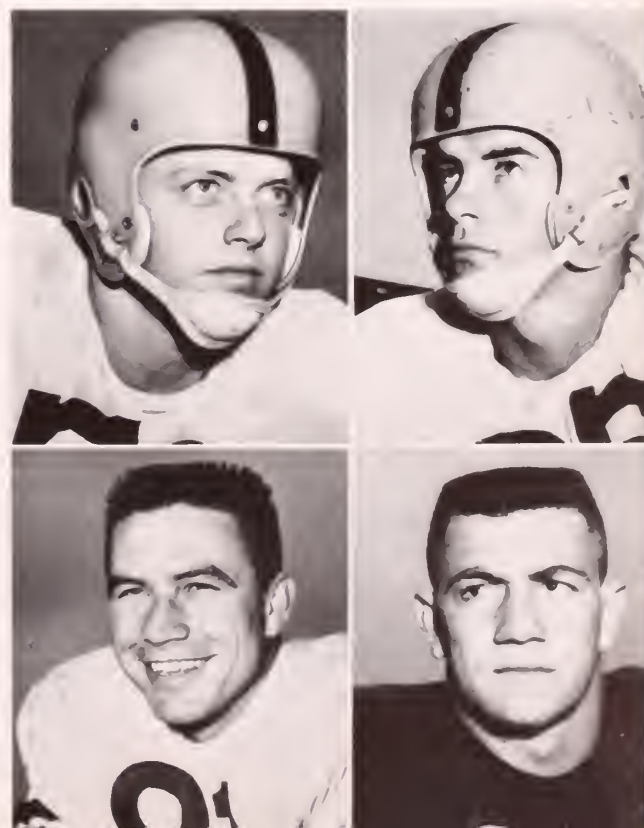

All the way through the third and most of the fourth quarter, the Rebels marched up and down the field but still had nothing to show for their efforts. Late in the fourth quarter, Ole Miss obtained possession of the ball on the LSU 33. From there they drove to a score in eight plays only to have it called back for an infracton. From the 15, the Rebels tried once more and finally made it on a fourth down, go-for-broke pass from BROWN to DON WILLIAMS, who made a scooping catch while lying on the ground. KHAYAT again converted. The foot is still in football.

Bill Hurst bulls his way to pay dirt on second down in the second quarter to give the Rebels a lead they never lost.

Cowboy Woodruff takes a hand-off from Franklin and makes the Rebels' lone score against State as Brewer (81) cheers him on.

From out of the hills of North Mississippi came the big blue, and the Orange Orges fell before the onslaught. The Rebels defeated the Volunteers on a soggy Crump Field before a sellout crowd of 31,000, including important dignitaries of the Sugar, Cotton and Gator Bowls.

From the opening kick-off until four minutes were gone in the second quarter, the defense of both teams was outstanding. Neither team could move the ball far. But with eleven minutes left in the second quarter, the Rebels used a punt return, a Tennessee specialty, to set up their first touchdown. LEROY REED took a Vol punt on the Tennessee 45 and ran to the right, eluding tacklers, and got behind a screen set up by the Rebels. He raced to the two yard line before he was stopped. On the second play from scrimmage, BILL HURST dove over for the score. ROBERT KHAYAT converted.

In the third quarter, Ole Miss again capitalized on a Volunteer mistake—this time a fumble. JACKIE SIMPSON recovered on the Tennessee five. Three plays later, RAYMOND BROWN rammed over for the score. Again KHAYAT converted.

Tennessee finally got a drive started late in the fourth quarter. The drive covered 80 yards and the score was made with a minute and a half left to play.

GENE and WILLIE HICKERSON and SIMPSON led the Rebels in their defensive play in which not one mistake was made.

OLE MISS 7 • MISSISSIPPI STATE 7

The Ole Miss Rebels battled the Mississippi State Maroons to a 7-7 tie. The game was played before a 34,500 highly partisan crowd. The tie caused the Rebels to lose one-half of the conference championship. Although, the Rebels did get a place in the coveted Sugar Bowl.

The Maroons took the opening kick-off and marched 90 yards for a score. They led 7-0 with only three minutes played in the game. The game then turned into a defensive battle for the rest of the first quarter and half of the second quarter. At that point, RAYMOND BROWN made an almost impossible interception of a State pass and returned it to the State 39 yard line. From that point, the Rebs' famed second unit drove for the score. JIMMY WOODRUFF carried the last 10 yards for the score. ROBERT KHAYAT converted to tie the score.

Two field goal attempts by CHARLIE BURKE failed after numerous penalties. State also attempted two field goals in the second half but both were blocked.

The tie caused the Rebels to give up possession on the "GOLDEN EGG" for the first time in five years. This time for only one-half of the year. Mississippi State has had possession of the "GOLDEN EGG" only for a total of one year since 1947. State tied Ole Miss 7-7 in 1953 to gain their other one-half year of possession.

The Rebel Cagers

Basketball's fate was similar to that of a downtrodden miler who, catching his wind in the stretch, makes it home with as fast a finishing kick as the front-runners.

The 1957-58 Johnny Rebs, coached by B. L. (Country) Graham, were off to a good-enough start and considering that sophomores were furnishing backboard height and much of the scorepower, the December run of five victories in eight games was excellent.

But there was a dismal January when the team went to market six times and emerged with just one full course repast, a satisfying 67-62 upset of smug Mississippi State. And the intro results in February were far from awe-inspiring.

Then came the tail-end push and with home base the locale for the first time in six games, the Rebs sacked five straight before running afoul of influenza and State College the same week.

The predicted fate for Country Graham's squad was cellar, strictly cellar. And by way of a 6-8 finishing record, its best since 1954, the final order had the Rebs in eighth place. Overall, there were 12 victories in twice that many games. The complete home record was 9-1.

A slow start by several veteran performers, the loss of a bright sophomore shooter at midterm, the late-season flu invasion and a general lack of team speed were chief barriers to a stronger report.

The most satisfactory appendage was the downing of pious Babe McCarthy and his State College crew in mid-January. But there were other noteworthy achievements. Tulane was beaten for the first time since 1956, after a series of one and two-point reversals. Louisiana State was dumped twice to make it five-straight over the Bengals. Alabama, a late-season contender for the Southeastern conference championship (the Tide didn't make it), was felled in a December non-conference showdown. Georgia lost for the sixth time (in seven games) since 1952. Florida was beaten on the campus for the fourth-straight time.

There were off-brand impressions, sour notes imprinted against Alabama in a second turn, the one that counted in league scoring; Auburn, Memphis State, Kentucky and Mississippi State in the closing contest. These were below-par performances.

Individually, Carlton Garner was the season-long scoring leader with 414 points and an 18.0-point average, good for fifth among SEC leaders.

Backboard height was represented by a pair of sophomores, 6-7 center Ivan Richmann and 6-7 forward-center Louis Griffin, who trailed Garner in the production of points. Richmann, who impressed during the last half of the season, totaled 250 for a 10.4-point average. Griffin, the rebound leader with 230, notched 215 points for 9.0.

Senior guards Bobby Williams and Bobby Robinson fired at a convincing pace in February action, were outstanding as playmakers. Junior guard Jim Tom Atherton lent a steady hand throughout. Another junior, guard Garnie Hatch, was an occasional starter, as was senior forward Carter Brown, and sophomore forward Dan Jordan saw occasional service.

1957-58 BASKETBALL SEASON

Williams' contributed the season's one-game high when he registered 34 points in the second defeat of LSU. He hit on 14 of 25 field goal attempts and six of eight from the free-throw line. He finished with 193 points, an 8.8 average. Robinson drew 178 points good for a 7.4 average. Hatch had 76 and 4.2, Atherton 62 and 3.1, Brown 36 and 2.3 and Jordan 5 and 0.7. Richmann nabbed 215 rebounds and set a new school record against Tulane with 25.

Hatch scored on 42.3 per cent of his shots to lead in field goal marksmanship. Richmann counted 42.0, Williams 41.4 and Garner 40.8. Garner was the free throw percentage leader with 76.4. Team figures were 37.0 per cent from the field and 65.5 on charity tosses. The score average was 68.2 points a game to 68.9.

The boy who cast his lot with the Rebels, then departed the scene, was Gene Jordan, originally billed as the successor to All-America Joe Gibbon, the nation's No. 2 scorer in 1956-57 with a 30.04-point average. This Jordan, with obvious talent, never made the big effort and eventually took off for greener ($$$) pastures. He could have made the difference in five of the 12 losses.

At the start, Howard, Union University and Arkansas State were beaten in home exchanges, 97-46, 96-63 and 62-58. Then Arkansas, a Southwest conference title contender, won a narrow 61-58 game in Little Rock. Back home, the Rebels dumped David Lipscomb 84-55, then came a cropper at Arkansas State in a return game, 76-56.

In the Mississippi State Holiday Invitational tournament, the Maroons pulled away in closing arguments after starters Richmann and Brown had fouled out, winning 66-53. Then came the non-conference 79-76 victory over Alabama in which both Garner and Gene Jordan counted 26 points.

January followed—a cold, cold month.

Alabama, unhappy over the Rebs' December verdict, found them a cold-shooting outfit and won with room to spare, 70-44. The game was staged January 4 in Memphis' Ellis Auditorium. Continuing off form, Ole Miss fell in its SEC inaugural at home, losing 71-51 to Auburn. The Tigers went on to upset champion Kentucky and finish in second place with an 11-3 record. The 'Bama pace was 9-5 and a tie for third.

Ole Miss came close at Vanderbilt and Georgia Tech, was beaten in road contests by 68-59 and 76-67. The Rebs were in both exchanges almost to the finish line.

A strong second period, from behind a 33-29 halfway deficit, upended Mississippi State in the lone campus game of the month. Seldom with a bright demonstration on the Memphis auditorium floor, the Rebels sagged again on the night of January 25, losing 85-62 to fired-up Memphis State.

A late rush gave Tulane a 77-67 game in New Orleans on February 1, but LSU 76-63 fell in Baton Rouge two nights later, then Kentucky staged its semi-annual parade in Lexington, racing to a 96-65 triumph. The Wildcats shot a red-hot 50 per cent in the first half, leading 57-34.

Louis Griffin picks up two points on a hook shot in the 67-62 victory against State.

Graham's well-coached team outrebounded and outplayed Tennessee in Knoxville but couldn't find the range with easy buckets awaiting. They fell short in a 68-63 game. But East Tennessee was beaten in double overtime at Johnson City, 55-53, in the last of the six straight off-campus engagements, and more was to follow.

Bobby Williams comes in for a layup shot against Tulane. These two points added to a final score of Ole Miss—83, Tulane—68.

Ole Miss snapped a 30-30 deadlock against Georgia at 17:12 of the first half, led 37-30 at intermission and moved on to 41-30 before the Bulldogs could find the range again. The lapse proved fatal in the 81-63 outcome. Two nights later on February 17, Florida dominated first-half results, leading 38-29 at the rest stop. But the Rebs pulled abreast at 11:40 of the second half, 54-54, and ultimately squeezed past the Gators on Ivan Richmann's free pitches with 2:10 remaining. The outcome was 67-65.

Despite the flu sidelining of Garner, the Rebs continued to gather spoils in bouncing the Louisiana SEC invaders, 83-68 in the case of Tulane February 22 and 85-78 over LSU February 24. The Greenie game was a rip-snorter for 12 minutes, at 24-all. Whereupon the Rebs broke out with 16 points over a five-minute span and that was that. The halfway edge was 46-28. LSU posted a 43-40 intermission lead but Ole Miss led 50-44 at 3:30 of the second half and the Tigers were never closer than four points thereafter, were behind 79-64 with 3:20 left to go.

Influenza forced both Richmann and Robinson from the LSU debate and they were of little help in the finale at State College on February 27, the Maroons winning 91-60. The half score was 47-25.

Garner crowded 29 points into that game, had other solid scoring nights against Tech with 27 points, 'Bama with 26. He ranged from 20 to 25 points in seven other appearances. Richmann dunked 24 points against Tulane (second game), his best SEC-game scoring performance, against three each in closing against LSU and State, his flu dates. He scored 25 in the second Arkansas State encounter. Griffin's top was 23 vs. David Lipscomb. His best game was the 22-point, 11-rebound show against State in 67-62 decision.

As mentioned, Williams' 34-point spread in the second LSU bout was high for the season. Averaging close to 16 in the last nine games, he counted 20 points against Tennessee, 19 against Tulane, 17 against Georgia. Robinson's plateau was 18 points in the opening LSU encounter. Hatch had 14 and 10-point games.

At season's end, letters went to eight squad members—seniors Garner, Robinson, Williams and Brown, juniors Hatch and Atherton, sophomores Richmann and Griffin. Frosh numerals were awarded Jack Waters, Harry Strauss, Jim and Bob Benton, Larry Watster, Tommy Washington and Tommy Miller.

A championship contender in outtheastern conference baseball since 1951, Ole Miss fielded another first-class diamond lineup in 1957. The record was not as glossy as in 1955-56, but it was representative. And consider that, at the start, the replacement outline called for "A new set of catchers, a new infield, two new outfielders and additional pitching depth."

From 1956's national championship contender, which advanced to the semifinals of the College World Series, the Rebel roster carried the names of just seven lettermen, three of them first-line pitchers. One catcher, three pitchers, the entire infield and two outfield starters had walked the diploma route.

The holdovers were lefthanders Joe Gibbon and Cecil Burford, another mound ace in Buddy Witichen, catcher Buddy Chain who was to continue at shortstop, his berth in post-season play; infielder Leroy Reed and outfielders John Lee Gainey and Don Williams. Additional squadmembers returning were pitcher Del Farmer and infielder Raymond Brown and Billy Johnson.

The campaign brought 16 victories against eight defeats. The main barrier to advanced results was soggy training weather. The Rebs, most notably the hurling corps, never reached full maturity in conditioning. The rains hit heaviest in midseason.

The only really sour note was the series loss to Mississippi State, with a missed signal and freak double play bringing about a 4-3 loss in the closing game when an even division in yearly results was at hand. It was the first Maroon series win since 1952.

In SEC action Swayze's team took three straight from Vanderbilt, two of three from Tulane, two of three from Louisiana State and broke even with the conference's Western Division champion, Alabama, one game of three being rained out. Non-league results were 2-0 with Louisiana Tech, with Centenary and Delta State. Loyola broke even in a pair and visiting Illinois coasted home. The State series totals were 1-3. The conference record was 9-6, good for third for the defending champions in SEC Western Division standings.

For his team, Swayze tried Bill Sistrunk and Ardis Phillips behind the bat, then settled on Billy Cooper who had been needed earlier at first base.

Cooper, Reed in an occasional turn, and Gibbon, the latter the team's leading hitter, were stationed at first. Reed, Louis Scheider and Johnson were the second basemen with Chain the short fielder, Johnson filling in on occasion. Lea Paslay was the early-season third sacker before Ray Brown took over.

BASEBALL: SPRING OF 1957

Gainey was the center fielder, start to finish. Willie Williams in left field, A. J. Martin, Jr. in right filled out-field roles before the end of spring football permitted the full-time presence of Don Williams, who reclaimed his right field station, Martin transferring to left; Ray Brown, Reed, outfielder Warren Jenkins and new pitchers Dick Gray and James Stigler. Carter Brown and Charles Baggett, both infielders, saw limited service early in the campaign.

With Wittichen, Burford, Gibbon, Farmer, Hunt and Stigler, lefty Ralph Hunt was a pitching staff member, one of three additions.

Gibbon, as a pitcher, in pinch-hit roles and as a first baseman, led in hitting with .425. In 20 games he drew 40 at bats. Gainey, All-SEC choice in center field, hit .375 and led in stolen bases with 13. Burford, who clubbed three homers, hit .368. Paslay, who dropped out late in the season was a .344 hitter. Wittichen, third pitcher above .300, went .333. Martin, one of 12 newcomers to participate, was the brightest sophomore, hitting .312. He later signed pro papers with Baltimore. Brown with .296 and three home runs, Cooper at .284, Reed at .276, Sistrunk at .211, Chain with .203, and Gray and Scheider with .200, were other Rebs hitting .200 or better. Chain's mark, the lowest of his career, compares with .314 in '57 plus a .426 average in nine NCAA tournament games.

For the final pitching report, Wittichen led with 4-0 and an earned run average of 1.82. Hunt finished at 4-1 and 2.76, Gray with 2-1 and 1.53. Buford's totals were 3-3 and 4.10, Gibbon, 2-2 and 2.82, Farmer 1-1 and 1.62, and Stigler 0-0 and 3.00.

Team figures were .271 in hitting and an ERA of 2.58 for the pitching staff. A total of 17 squadmembers won 1957 letters—catchers Cooper and Sistrunk; pitchers Wittichen, Burford, Gibbon, Hunt, Farmer and Gray; infielders Chain, Reed, Ray Brown, Johnson and Scheider, and outfielders Gainey, Don Williams, Willie Williams and Martin.

Ray Brown prepares to throw to first to complete a very timely double play against State. The Rebels won this one.

Ole Miss tennis in 1957 was a howling success. Under Coach J. W. (Wobble) Davidson's tutelage as freshman in 1956, then under new-coach Johnny Cain's direction last spring, the Rebels swept 11 matches without a reversal, then wound up as the surprise entry in the Southeastern conference tourney by claiming 10 points and fourth place. The finish in the Mississippi Intercollegiate tourney was 13 points and fourth place.

Individually, Phil Berry Jr. of Laurel, No. 1, won in six of nine matches, in 16 of 23 sets. He and Bill Watson of Meridian posted an 8-1 record in doubles and won the state intercollegiate doubles title. Other results: Charles Williamson of Little Rock, 11-0; Watson, 10-0; Dick Newberg of Ludington, Mich., 10-1; Morris Denton of Oxford, 8-3; Louis Brandt of University, 7-3, and George Arrington of Meridian, 2-1. In doubles, Williamson and Newberg won nine of ten matches, Denton and Brandt posting a 7-3 record.

The M Club of the University of Mississippi is composed of those men who have lettered in one of the University's major intercollegiate sports, which are: football, basketball, baseball, and track.

The purpose of the M Club is to promote excellence in athletic ability and to promote the general welfare of athletics on the Ole Miss campus. Only the members of the M Club are qualified to wear the Ole Miss "M," which distinguishes these men as winners of the athletic award.

Each year the M Club sponsors the annual M Club dance which is held sometime during the football season. Also during the season, an annual M Club Day is held at which time the club alumni are invited to return to the campus as honorary guests. To wind up the social activities, the M Club has a final party after the spring initiation of members.

The Ole Miss Rebel Band is an organization composed of eighty instrumentalists with a majorette corps numbering thirteen. Nearly all schools and departments in the University are represented in the band membership, with students from as far west as California and as far east as New York enrolled. The majority of band members are recipients of band scholarships, for which one must maintain a 3.0 average to remain eligible.

During its marching season the Rebel Band participated in eight of the football games played by Ole Miss. The Band also performed in the Sugar Bowl on January 1, 1958, which makes the third time it has done so since 1953.

Highlighting its 1958 concert season the Rebel Band toured Mississippi during spring holidays presenting to audiences in the major cities throughout the state an outstanding display of showmanship and musical talent. Also along the concert line, the band has been invited to perform at the Worlds Fair in Brussels next fall.

The Women's Recreation Association was founded at the University of Mississippi in 1926. It is composed of all girls participating in the intramural sports activities that are conducted on the Ole Miss campus. The organization is governed by a board of representatives from each organization that sponsors a team in any of the independent groups.

This group has as its purpose the provision of activities that the girls at the University of Mississippi can enjoy in their leisure time. A sense of competition and an incentive toward participation is stirred up by awarding points to the winning teams in each event. At the end of the year the points are added up and the group with the greatest number of points wins a trophy.

The Intramural Council, founded at the University of Mississippi in 1935, is composed of students representing each group of students—social fraternities, organizations, etc.—that participates in the intramural program here on the campus. It is there job to organize and carry out the various intramural programs that are conducted at Ole Miss. They set up the rules and regulations regarding the eligibility of students to participate and the other necessary regulations.

Because of the number of groups participating in the intramural program, leagues have to be set up for the various sports and play-offs are necessary.

Points are given to the winners and runners-up of the various sports. At the end of the year the points are totaled, and the team having the greatest number of points receives a trophy. If a group wins the trophy for three years in a row, it gets to retire the trophy.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS COUNCIL

School Spirit is perhaps the most recognizable trait of a University. In order to keep the Rebel spirit at its highest, cheerleaders are chosen each spring by the student body. This group functions under the ASB Department of School Spirit and performs such duties as leading cheers at football games, indoctrination of freshmen, and leading pep rallies. Our cheerleaders are of vital importance to the success of our athletic program. Without the support of this energetic group, the endeavors of our athletic teams would perhaps fall short of their present high standards.

PARTIES ... SECRETS

... GREEKS

Evidence of the presence of Greek organizations can readily be observed over the campus throughout all phases of the school year. Social functions would be almost nil without sorority and fraternity date suppers, informal parties, open-houses, tea dances, and formals, Especially in the spring do the Greeks entertain with a great number and variety of social events. Too, participation by the fraternal orders in election campaigns, Homecoming and Rebelee festivities, the Campus Chest, and Help Week make them organizations with a great many different functions and goals. There are now 16 fraternities and 8 sororities on the Ole Miss campus; about 35 per cent of the student body wear Greek pins. These organizations invariably find praise along with "beat-outs," sneers, and ridicule each coming their way and not infrequently. Nevertheless, sororities and fraternities constitute a definite part of Ole Miss and contribute much to its being.

The Pan-Hellenic Council of the University of Mississippi is a member of the National Pan-Hellenic Conference, which has organizations on the campuses of the leading colleges and universities in the United States. Its purpose is to further active cooperation and understanding among the sororities, between sorority and non-sorority women, and between the sororities and the university.

Always working for the good of the University, Pan-Hellenic Council strives to promote fine intellectual achievement and scholarship, to maintain high social standards, and to promote worthy projects on the campus. All regulations concerning rush are formulated and enforced by this council. It sets up the methods concerning the rushing of girls each year, limiting the number to be pledged by each sorority and regulating the system by which bids are issued.

The Council is composed of the presidents of each of the sororities and two additional representatives from each group. Each representative is elected by her own sorority. The officers of the council are selected on a rotation system with each sorority having an officer of Pan-Hellenic Council at regular intervals.

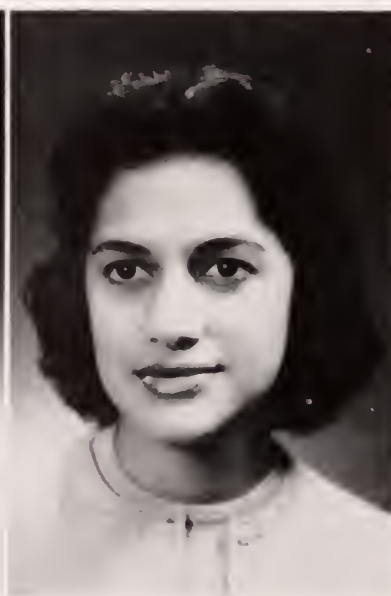

Each summer Pan-Hellenic sends a copy of the rush rules to prospective women students and entertains the rushees with a tea on the first day of formal rush.

The Inter-Fraternity Council is an organization designed to regulate and govern the activities of all social fraternities on the University campus. The main duty of the council is carried out each year in the planning, setting up, and enforcing of rules for fraternity rush. Through the coordination of activities, the Inter-Fraternity Council tends to unite the fraternities in a spirit of friendly brotherhood.

It is composed of two representatives from each fraternity. Each representative is chosen by the fraternity of which he is a member. The Council is governed by four officers elected from the membership by the council itself.

Junior Pan-Hellenic Council is an organization which prepares pledges for more competent leadership within the sororities and on the Ole Miss campus. Its organization is similar to that of Senior Pan-Hellenic, and helps to familiarize the pledges with the activities of that organization.

Junior Pan-Hellenic is composed of the president and two representatives from each sorority pledge class. The officers are selected on the same rotation system that the officers of the senior Pan-Hellenic are. Miss Julia Carolyn Waits and Buena Lee English, advisor and president, respectively, of senior Pan-Hellenic, are the advisors for the group this year.

JUNIOR INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

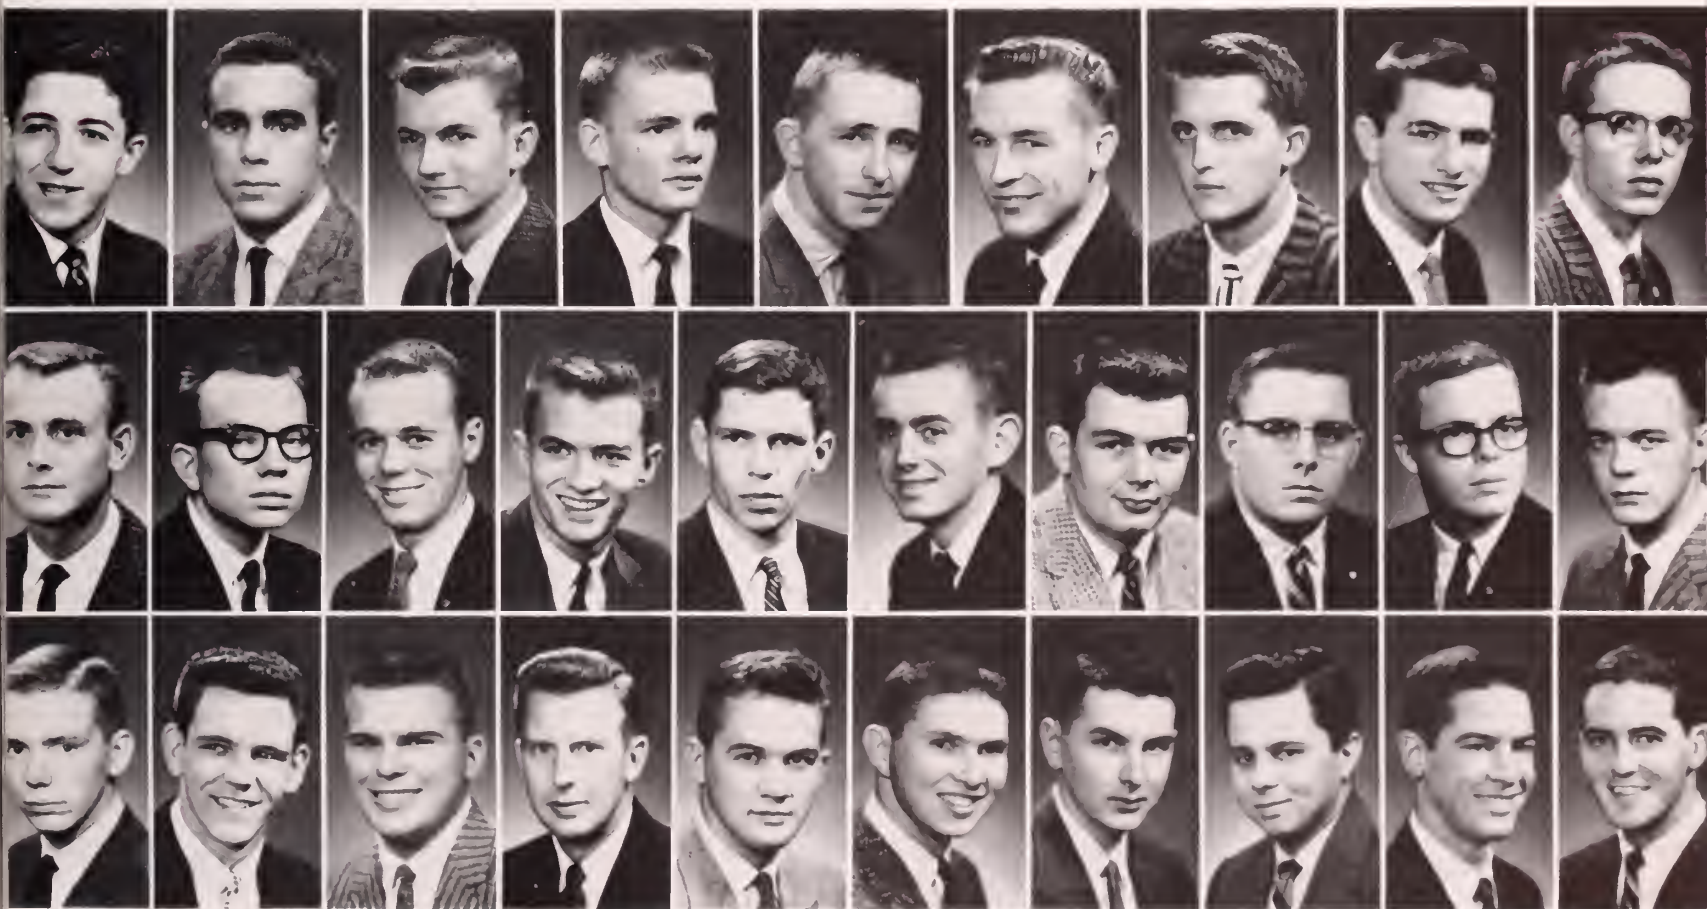

The Junior Interfraternity Council is composed of two pledges from each fraternity. These representatives are selected by their individual pledge classes and serve for the entire year. The Council is also composed of a representative from the Senior Interfraternity Council who is elected to serve as president of the Jr. IFC for organizational purposes.

The purpose of the Jr. IFC is to instill in its membership the principles of the fraternity system. In doing this, the representatives may give to their individual fraternities an incentive to improve its standards thereby cultivating a better environment where manhood may flourish. The Council also acts as a service organization, carrying out projects designated by the Sr. IFC.

Alpha Omicron Pi was founded at Barnard College of Columbia University, New York, on January 2, 1897. There are now 72 chapters which honor a Jacqueminot rose as their flower and cardinal as their color. The colony was established on the campus in 1957 and installed as the first chapter in Mississippi in 1958. While plans are being completed for construction of their house on Sorority Circle, the AOPi's have a lodge next door to the Law School.

As the newest sorority on the campus, the AOPi's have been busy establishing their standards in scholarship, character, integrity, and active campus participation. Their Rose Tea during Rush begins the year of social activities which includes date suppers, record parties, Christmas parties for underprivileged children, Spring picnics, and the Rose Ball.

Marjorie Bloodworth heads Alpha Lambda Delta while Pat Linn is president of the Women Student Government. Ann Baddley is campus president and state vice-president of the Student Education Association, and Linda Scott is a favorite. Sally Snell leads the girls in Ward Dormitory while Susie Parant, Beth Elliot, and Flo Davis are campus senators.

The wise old Chi Omega owl first came to roost on the Ole Miss campus in 1899, only four years after the mother chapter was established at the University of Arkansas. With him he brought colors of cardinal and straw, white carnations and tiny gold pins set with pearls.

The Tawny Grey Owl hoots about Mary Ann Strong as ASB Secretary, Mary Ann Mobley as National Football Queen, Marsha Dunn as WSGA vice-president, Celia Carter as State "Y" president, Lynn Lloyd as varsity cheerleader and Beverly Davenport Blalack as Sweetheart of Sigma Chi. He boasts of favorites Lloyd, Lovelace, Mead, and Strong; and beauties Rutledge, Swayze, and Mobley.

With pride he points to Mortar Board members Dunn and Barnes; CWENS Edwynne Joiner, Frances Bell, Polly Crostwait, and Lynn Lloyd; and Alpha Lambda Deltans Joiner, Ann Morris, and Rose Marie Noble. In the trophy case he exhibits both the pledge and overall scholarship cups and the Stunt Night award for 1957. Owlets Martha Lovelace and Katherine Cole Taylor cheer the freshman football team to victory.

Along the party lines, the Chi O's entertain with Eleusenean Banquets, Christmas parties, slumber parties, an annual ball, and numerous date suppers. Mrs. Helen Rhyne stands by to help keep all the little owlets in tow.

Chi chapter of Delta Delta Delta, residing this year in its beautiful new home, was established on the Ole Miss campus in 1904. The crescent moon and stars with the colors silver, gold, and blue were selected by the founders at Boston University in 1888.

The Tri Deltas are active and as their honors prove, successful in many phases of campus life. Representing Tri Delta on the cheerleader squad is Homecoming Queen Pat Cousins, while Judy Lassiter and Harriet led the yells for the freshman team. Eone Hamblin reigned over Rebelee and the chapter won the activities trophy during that week's events. Reigning on fraternity row PiKA Dream Girl, Augusta Day, Kappa Alpha Rose, Ellie Arthur, and Kappa Sigma Sweetheart, Pat Williams. Tri Delta favorites are Mary Campbell, Pat Cousins, Carlisle Gaston and Harriet Holmes; while Deanna Durham, Luanne Pepper, and Jane Williamson were chosen as beauties. Scholarship, leadership, and service earned Mortar Board positions for Joan Whitten, Barbara McCurdy, and Margaret Whitfield. Carolyn Hailes represents Tri Delta as vice-president of CWENS while Jo Love stars as President of the University Players.

Originally founded in Oxford at the Lewis School in January of 1874, Delta Gamma established Alpha Psi Chapter at Ole Miss in 1936. Eighty five chapters honor the cream colored rose and wear the colors of bronze, pink and blue. One of the outstanding features of the Delta Gamma Memorial House is the Founder's Room, which is dedicated to its founders.

During the year entertainment is provided with affairs such as date suppers, open houses, the annual Christmas dinner for campus hostesses, the Christmas party. On Founder's Day they celebrate with a banquet and all attend church together. Their housemother, Mrs. Ethel George, has been a second mother to all of the DG's.

Well represented on campus, the DG's are especially proud of Miss Ole Miss Buena Lee English, who is president of Pan-Hellenic, a varsity cheerleader, and a favorite. Other favorites are Vonda Freeman and Jean Garber while beauties are Sharon Hampton and Margie Wilson. Freshman cheerleaders are Sandy Fayard and Margie Wilson. Other DG's claiming honors are Betty Sue Aven, president of Junior Pan-Hellenic; Annie Whittington, R.O.T.C. sponsor; and Carolyn Valentour, secretary of the Women's Student Government.

Kappa Delta was founded at Longwood College in Farmville, Virginia on October 23, 1897 and has enjoyed a very active life at the University for the past thirty years. With olive green and pearl white as colors, there are now 93 chapters which hold in reverence the white rose. Each year the Ole Miss KDs become a bit lively in Rush, don their devil's costumes and treat Rushees to a visit to the KD Hades.

These girls entertain with Wednesday night house suppers, date suppers, pledge parties, and informal dances. On Founders' Day they celebrate with a big banquet, and hold their annual Christmas party for underprivileged children with their big brothers, the SAE's.

Well represented on the campus, KDs are especially proud of favorites Deana Dubard, Judy Ford, and Becky Lomax; and beauties Pat McRaney, Bessie Sarphie, and Mary Margaret Stewart, who also leads cheers. Jan Priester serves as secretary of Pan-Hellenic, while Sandra Shook does the same for Jr. Pan-Hellenic and the Freshman Y. Marjorie Waters handles money for the WSGA, as Jean Rawson heads the Freshman Y. Judy Ford parades with the band, and Pat McRaney performs as Freshman cheerleader. Pat and Bessie Sarphie also enter military life as Air Force ROTC sponsors.

Founded at Monmouth College in 1870, Kappa Kappa Gamma brought its golden key to the University and established Delta Rho Chapter in 1947.

Ole Miss Kappas enjoy a full social life centered around their house with the able assistance of their housemother, Mom Ford. Activities include Thursday night open houses, date nights, the Faculty Tea, a Christmas party for underprivileged children, and pledge-active parties.

Outstanding on campus they are justly proud of their members who have distinguished themselves. Forrester is president of WRA, co-chairman of the committee of 100, and sweetheart of Theta Kappa Phi. Mortar Board president Betty Ann Culpepper and secretary Jan Holmes wear the Key as do CWENS Cynthia Dabney, Martha Campbell, and Jean Lull, who was also chosen Panhellenic's Model Pledge. Kappa YWCA officers include vice-president Jean Nail, treasurer Jan Holmes, sophomore president Carolyn Carter.

Betty Ann Harrell is Panhellenic treasurer and Alicia Harper holds the same office for Junior Panhellenic. To round out the picture are favorites Bonnie Markle, Johnette Walker, Jan Holmes and beauties Maureen Denman, Martha Walker, and Ebbie Smith.

The first Phi Mu chapter was formed at Wesley College in Macon, Georgia on January 4, 1852, and now the list has grown to 77 chapters throughout the nation. Alpha Delta chapter of Phi Mu Sorority was established on Rebel territory in 1924, with the colors of rose and white and the Enchantress carnation.

Social activities such as date suppers, dances, Founder's Day Banquet, and Faculty Teas flourish at the Phi Mu house throughout the year. The Christmas spirit is celebrated with a pledge party for underprivileged children, while the chapter invites the foreign students on campus over for a Christmas dinner.

With the theme "Scalp 'um, Rebels," Phi Mu brought in Homecoming honors for the fourth consecutive year. Jill Applewhite leads the Rebel band while majorettes Gail Brogden, Betty Black, Martha Dale Johnston, and Joye Munn fall in line behind her.

Jill Applewhite is president of Sigma Alpha Iota, and Sara Beth Holland runs the YWA. CWENS claims Mary Frances Humphries and Betty Black. Other campus leaders include: Martha Kay Gritman, class editor of the OLE MISS; Camille Shepherd, treasurer of the "Y"; Carolyn Abraham, vice-charman of Homecoming and ASB Dance Committees. Martha Dale Johnston reigns as ATO sweetheart as Gail Brogden acts as Air Force sponsor. Kay Haraway and Carolyn Abraham are favorites, and Ann Brand is a beauty.

Zeta Tau Alpha is one of the first Virginia-born fraternities for women. On October 15, 1898, nine of the patrician daughters of southern families banded together to forge the first linke in a chain that now binds more than 30,000 loyal women together.

Zeta Tau Alpha was not only the first woman's fraternity to be chartered in Virginia, but also was the only one ever chartered by a special act of a legislature.

Gamma Delta Chapter came to Ole Miss in 1939 bringing along its flower, the white violet, and colors of steel grey and turquoise blue.

Zeta Tau Alpha gives to every girl who wears the shield a heritage of life-long privileges and friendships perpetrated beyond the period of college days—"once a Zeta, always a Zeta." The aim of Zeta Tau Alpha, that of SERVICE is one of vision, for today, no one lives fully who lives selfishly. Zeta's principles of service to its own membership, to those outside the fraternity, and to the community is manifest in its many scholarships, philanthropic, and war service programs. Zeta Tau Alpha is more than a fraternity, it is a way of life.

Alpha Tau Omega was established at V.M.I. in 1865, the first Greek-letter fraternity organized after the War Between the States. The Taus settled at Ole Miss in 1927 and have been providing the campus with a large portion of its leaders and scholars since then.

"No north, no south, no east, no west," is a motto of the 117 chapters of ATO, which instituted the policy of a Help-week instead of Hell-week. The local hairy-chested men, with the aid of sorority, rebuild the home of a needy Lafayette county family.

Dick Ashman marches first in the NROTC battalion. Chip Marble presides at the Ole Miss "Y," and Neal Gregory is Business Manager of the OLE MISS. Dudley Thomas keeps the Navy drill team in step while Dick Dalton and Lane Arbuthnot keep the campus informed from the campus radio station. Charles Burns was chairman of Dixie Week, and Louis McCraw was last year's outstanding freshman engineer. Buddy Chain, captain of the 1957 Ole Miss baseball team, was among the top five ATO's in the nation.

ATO campus leaders recognized by ODK include Ashman, Chain, Gregory, Marble, and Bill Mixon.

Besides their many organized social functions on the campus, the boys have quite a few impromptu gatherings at their "Tau Hut," located on a lake about six miles east of Oxford.

One hundred and eighteen years ago on August 8, 1938, the sparkle of the Beta Theta Pi Diamond first appeared on the campus of Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. Beta Theta Pi is the oldest social fraternity to be founded as such and was the first member of the famed "Miami Triad." There are now ninety-six Beta chapters in thirty-seven states and two provinces in Canada.

The Diamond's rays fell on the University of Mississippi campus in 1879, when members of the now extinct Mystic Seven were incorporated into Beta Theta Pi. Since then the diamond has been carried into every phase of campus activities by fraternal brothers and leaders. This year, Walter Austin is president of Anchor and Chain as well as Editor of the "Quarterback." Jim Anderson is secretary of the Intramural Council, while Thor Anderson serves as vice-president of Pi Sigma Alpha. Vincent Labella is a freshman member of the Engineering School's Judicial Council.

Their social calendar is filled throughout the year with all sorts of parties, including dances, outings, and their annual spring formal.

The pink rose was chosen as their national flower, while the Beta Beta Chapter here at Ole Miss favored the Magnolia. Betas everywhere proudly display their fraternity colors of pink and blue.

After having been founded in 1844 at Yale, the Dekes came to the University of Mississippi in 1850, where they were not only the first fraternity to be established on the campus of the two year old school, but also the first one to be established in the state. At their annual spring formal they decorate with their colors of blue, gold, and crimson. Usually it is too early for them to catch the pansy, their favorite flower, in bloom, but they use it to good advantage where possible.

These boys are very socially minded and know how to have a good time. For the home games this year they displayed a sign which cordially welcomed everyone to their open house. They were quite unfortunate in losing their house when it caught fire in the middle of the night last December, but, luckily, all of them got out with only minor injuries.

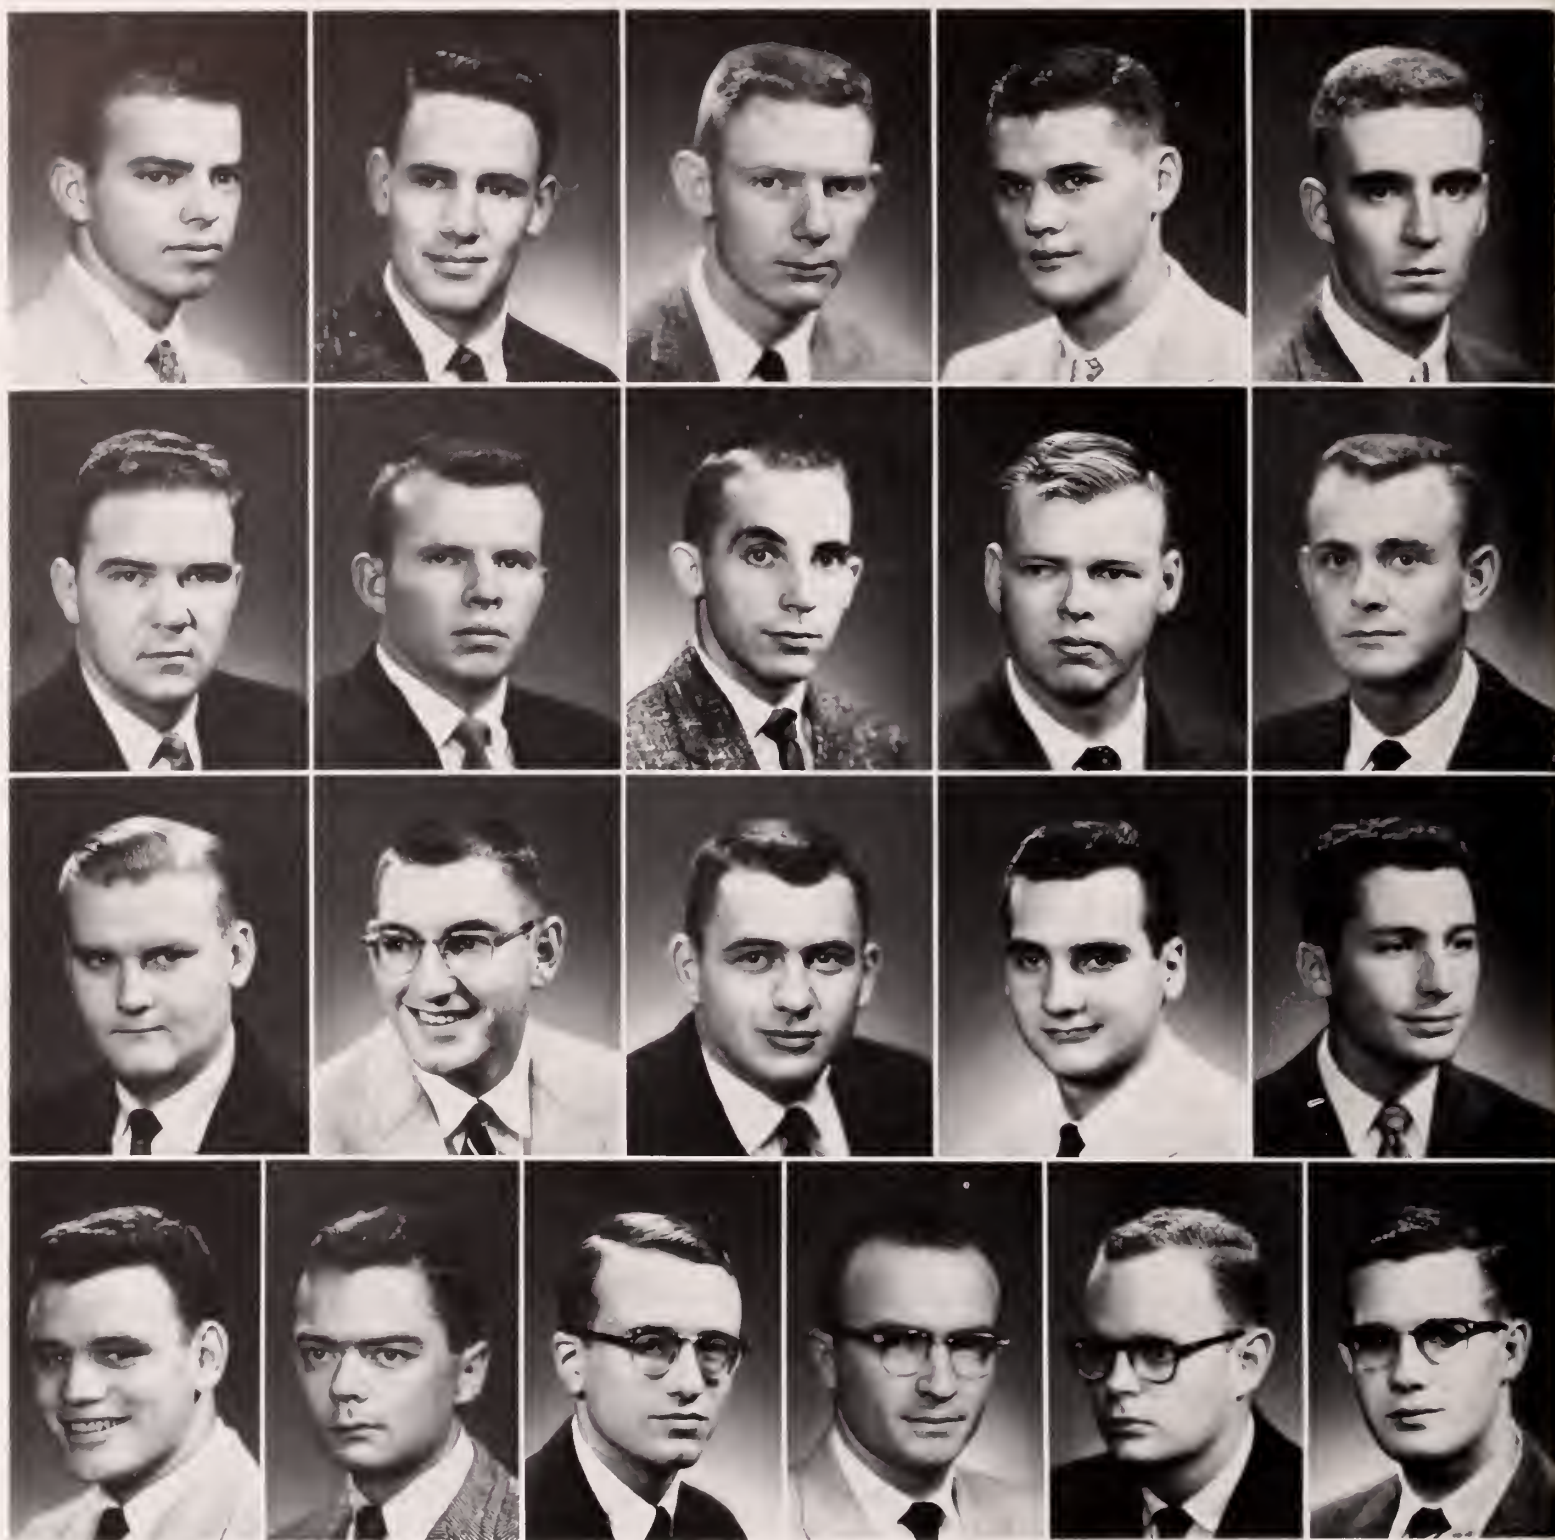

There is much more to this group than just the desire to have a good time. Each member strives to live up to the standards set by their founding fathers and to inculcate a desire for the better things in life in themselves and those around them.

They always celebrate Christmas with a party for under-privileged children with the Kappas their little sisters.

DELTA PSI

FOUNDED AT OLE MISS IN 1855

Delta Psi was founded in 1847 at Columbia University in New York City. They started a chapter on the Ole Miss campus in 1855. Although they were the second fraternity here, they did erect the first fraternity house at the University as well as in the state. Their fraternity colors of azure blue and gold were brought with them and are used, whenever possible, for decoration.

The fraternity is rather unique in that they do not publish their officers. This is just one phase of their concept of secrecy. They feel that this secrecy serves as a bond to unite the members of the fraternity.

In its one hundred and two years on the campus, Delta Psi has strived to make leaders of its men. To find evidence of their success, one needs only to look at the list of alumni in order to find the names of former governor Hugh L. White, Representative Will Whittington, Speaker of the House Walter Sillers, and President Emeritus G. T. Gillespie.

Another tradition of Delta Psi is that of not allowing the back of their pin to be seen. To protect against this they are required to wear their pin at all times while they are an active member.

Their house is provided with dining room and kitchen facilities and with accommodations for a house-mother.

For some 90 years, the Kappa Alpha Order has trained young college men to cherish the Southern ideal of character by honoring and protecting pure womanhood, practicing courtesy and self-control, and preferring self respect to ill-gotten gain. Their aim is to perpetuate the Southern ideal of a true gentleman, of which Robert E. Lee, their spiritual founder, is a perfect example.

The Kappa Alpha Order was founded in 1865 at Washington and Lee University in Lexington, Virginia; and, since that time, has expanded into 76 chapters, all below the Mason-Dixon Line. The Kappa Alpha Rose is first in their garden, while crimson and old gold catch their eyes in the way of color.

The Alpha Upsilon Chapter was established on the University of Mississippi campus in 1900. Since that time the KAs here have continued to be leaders in all activities. For the past few years they have virtually controled intramural football and have been top contenders in other sports as well.

They have been enjoying a completely renovated house this year, with provisions for a housemother and complete dining facilities. The house affords an excellent place to hold their numerous social functions throughout the year, including open houses, informal parties, date suppers, and skating parties.

Kappa Sigma was founded in 1400 at the University of Bologna. The fraternity came to the United States from Italy in 1869, and on December tenth of that year the first American chapter was organized at the University of Virginia.

The Scarlet, White and Green of Kappa Sigma came to Ole Miss in 1926 and brought the Lily-of-the-Valley to charter Delta-Xi Chapter. It is now one of 129 chapters embracing 45 states and two Canadian provinces.

In the thirty years on campus, Kappa Sigma has been important in every activity and is justly proud of its campus reputation of having the best parties. The Spring Formal climaxes a season of banquets, combo parties, pledge parties, and dances.

Kappa Sigma embodies the finest tradition of brotherhood and steadfast allegiance, characterized by Jefferson Davis, who in his later life became a brother.

The chapter has endowed the state and nation with Rhodes Scholars, a governor, and many competent business and professional men.

On 26 December 1848, Phi Delta Theta began her first century of uninterrupted existence at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. One hundred and ten years performed a near-miracle of growth and achievement far beyond the fondest hopes of the first Phis who gathered around Phi Delta Theta's altars. Little did they dream that one day the fraternity's chapters would be found in 48 states of the United States, in six provinces of Canada, and in Nova Scotia, with 123 active chapters.

In addition to leading all other fraternities in Rhodes Scholars and All-American football players, Phi Delta Theta has prominent members in every field of endeavor, including the presidency of the United States. Since its founding on the Ole Miss campus in 1877, this chapter has maintained many leaders at the University.

This year the Ole Miss Phis were awarded the Cleveland Trophy by the national fraternity for being the most outstanding Phi Delta Theta Chapter in the country. This award was based on scholarship, service, and campus leadership. The Phi Deltas also won the Ole Miss IFC Scholarship Trophy for 1956-57.

Eight hundred fifty-six men have signed the Bond of Mississippi Alpha Chapter of Phi Delta Theta. They can be found in positions of respect all over the country. These men look back with pride at their fraternity and university.

Phi Kappa Psi was founded at Jefferson College in Pennsylvania, in 1852. Five years later Mississippi Alpha was established, making Phi Kappa Psi one of the first fraternities to situate itself at Ole Miss.

Their National colors are red and green, and the fraternity flower is the Jacqueminot Rose.

Last spring, in celebrating their centennial, representatives from fourteen of their sixty-two chapters throughout the United States were present and joined in the festivities of their annual ball and the informal parties which preceded it.

The boys do a good job of living up to the title of their favorite song, "Noble Fraternity." A true sign of nobility is shown at Christmas and other occasions to underprivileged children in this area.

They do not confine themselves to working only for the fraternity, however. The entire chapter takes part in Dixie Week, Homecoming festivities, Rebelee, student government, and many other phases of campus life.

All work and no play makes a dull Phi Psi. Realizing this, the brothers have their annual formal in the spring in addition to date suppers and informal dances throughout the year.

At the University of Virginia, on March 1, 1868, six Confederate Army veterans bound themselves in brotherhood in Pi Kappa Alpha. Their high ideals have led to an organization that is one of the five largest national college fraternities, and the largest in the Mid-South. Pi Kappa Alpha is the only national fraternity with headquarters in the South. This is a reflection of the fact that it remains essentially a Southern organization.

At Ole Miss those Partying Pikes highlight the spring social season with the Dream Girl Ball, spreading the colors of garnet and gold and the Lilly-of-the-Valley. Parties in National Headquarters in Memphis, dances in conjunction with Pike chapters from other schools, informal dances and costume parties, and Tri Delt Little Sister parties are always included in the social year.

The campus intramural athletic trophy looks good at the Pike house and, so they say, might decide to stay forever. The chapter is proud of such men as Brad Dye, ASB President; Thad Cochran, Head Cheerleader and member of the President's Cabinet; Bill Liston, Judicial Council member; and Bob Childress, Hall of Fame.

The fraternity is pleased to be living in what they claim is Mississippi's largest and finest fraternity house, just completed this spring.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, the first Southern fraternity, was founded on March 9, 1856, and the University of Alabama by a group of eight close friends. Today it is now the largest national college fraternity in the United States. SAE is noted for fostering the Interfraternity Council, establishing the first national leadership school, and erecting the first national headquarters building, Levere Memorial Temple at Evanston, Illinois.

Gamma Chapter was established at Ole Miss in 1866, by L. Q. C. Lamar. The SAEs have consistently been one of the campus leaders since that time. In just about every phase of campus life you are sure to find at least one—maybe several SAEs. They enter almost every competition and come out on top sometimes too.

Purple and gold are the fraternity colors and their song boasts of the fraternity flowers, violets. Despite a fire, paint, blasting, paint, blowtorches, and paint, Minerva's faithful attendants still are perched on the SAE lawn looking solemn and unphased. If they could only talk.

It has been rumored that the SAE's have parties, but no one is quite certain whether they are planned or just spontaneous outbursts celebrating the removal of another coat of paint.

At Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, Sigma Chi was founded in June of 1855. Since then, Sigma Chi has been one of the leading fraternities in the fraternity world.

At Ole Miss is Eta Chapter, one of Sigma Chi's greatest. Eta was established at the University in 1857, and in the hundred years since has produced many outstanding campus leaders.

Hall of Famer, Sammy Smith, now in Law School, is permanent president of the class of '57, and is included in scholarly Pi Kappa Pi along with Bryan Dewees and Joe Pegram. Raymond Brown quarterbacked the Rebels with able assistance from Leroy Reed, Billy Pruitt, Cowboy Woodruff, and Ken Kirk. Leroy Reed was also chosen Colonel Rebel this year.

In the military, Sigma Chi is well represented, with army battalion commander Monroe Pointer and other key ROTC and AFROTC officers. Eta is proud to call as her own Bob Travis, a last year's graduate in the Hall of Fame. Bob was the First Southern Province winner of the National Balfour Award, given each year to the top undergraduate Sigma Chi in the nation.

Their national song, "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," is an old favorite on everyone's list and is especially prominent on the campus each year in May when blue and gold, along with white roses, grace their spring formal.

Since its founding, Sigma Nu has grown into one of the nation's leading social fraternities, with 124 chapters in 46 states and Canada, and over 70,000 brothers spread throughout the world.

Epsilon Xi Chapter received its charter at Ole Miss in 1927. Among the more prominent brothers are George Cossar, Executive Secretary of the ASB; Travis Stallworth, Managing Editor of "The Mississippian"; and John Cossar, varsity cheerleader.

The "Snakes" have always held their own in intramural competition. During the past years they have fielded teams in every sport offered, and have quite a collection of laurels to show for their efforts.

To fill the social calendar, they hold many parties such as the Roaring Twenties Party, and the traditional White Star Ball held in the spring, where the colors of gold, black, and white prevail.

"TO BELIEVE IN THE LIFE OF LOVE, TO WALK IN THE WAY OF HONOR, TO SERVE IN THE LIGHT OF TRUTH—this is the Life, the Way, and the Light of Sigma Nu—this is the Creed of our Fraternity."

The Sigma Pi badge, symbolic in all respects, is a Greek cross of gold, bearing a raised oval of blue enamel with an emerald at its center between the Greek letters for Sigma and Pi. The arms of the Sigma Pi Greek-cross badge display respectively a scroll, a balance, a wreath, and ten stars arranged as a triangle. The pledge button is purple, shaped like a shield, and bears a white Greek cross.

Sigma Phi Epsilon was founded at Richmond College in Richmond, Virginia, 2 November 1901, and in the past fifty-seven years has grown to over 145 chapters in forty-three states. We now rank second in the number of chapters among all national college social fraternities. Thirty years ago, 1927, Mississippi Alpha was installed on the campus of Ole Miss.

Brotherhood is free. It begins and ends with the heart and is unrelated to the curriculum. The college is a mind-building organization, while the fraternity is a character-building organization. Both are important to the whole man.

Fame and achievement are twin stars that draw men of ability and will upward and onward. The gallery of Sigma Phi Epsilon's celebrities is ever crowded.

Among the Mississippi Alpha Sig Eps are: S. Earl Grimes, past president of the Mississippi Hospital Association; Fannie Black Ladd, author, editor, and planter; John Clark Love, a prominent member of the Mississippi Legislature; and J. V. Wentzell, Dean of Perkinson Junior College.

The colors of purple and red are the national fraternity colors for Sigma Phi Epsilon, and they have American Beauty roses and violets as fraternity flowers.

In 1951, Chi Chapter of Theta Kappa Phi was established on the campus of the University of Mississippi. Since its foundation date, Chi has endeavored to provide a complete education for the Catholic University man by offering an organized spiritual, scholastic and social life to its members.

Theta Kappa Phi was founded nationally by the consolidation of two local fraternities at Penn State and Lehigh University in 1922. Its official flower is the Columbine and its colors are red, silver, and gold.

Each member is obligated to help his brother to the utmost of his ability and to maintain the honor and dignity of his university. In accordance with the Theta Kappa Phi fraternity spirit, they try to always manifest a public spirit and lively interest in all that concerns the life and welfare of the school.

... Trench-hut! ... For'd Harch! ... Order Harms!
... Lemme hear those rifles snap ... Do you call THAT a spit shine? ... From the stadium to the intramural field to McCain Hall these sounds rang out each and every Thursday afternoon as the ROTC boys "played soldier." On Thursday mornings the campus was decorated with "Navy Blue," "Air Force Blue," and "modern Army green." We laughed, called them swabbies, junior birdmen, ground-pounders, and bemoaned our fate if the nation's defenses ever came to depend on them. But we knew that this "playing soldier" was pretty serious and pretty important stuff, because they were preparing to direct the defenses.

It was work, hard work, but it wasn't all work. There were the balls—the Navy Ball and the Military Ball, sponsored jointly by the Army and the Air Force. The Military was an important part of life at Ole Miss and this section is included to portray that part.

The department of Military Science and Tactics is a general military science unit of the Army Reserve Officers Training Corps and functions under the joint jurisdiction of the University and the Department of the Army. The purpose of the program is to select and train junior officers to serve with the reserve components of the Army of the United States.

Army ROTC is divided into two phases, the Basic Course and the Advance Course. All students enrolled in the advanced course are paid a monthly allowance. Attendance of summer camp follows completion of the first year of the advanced course. During the fourth year, each student is given the opportunity of declaring the branch of service in which he desires to be commissioned. We, of the Army ROTC, feel that our program offers the best variety of branch selections, since our graduates may be commissioned in any one of fourteen branches. Upon satisfactory completion of the fourth year of training the student is commissioned as Second Lieutenant, United States Army Reserve, in that branch of the service designated by the Department of the Army on the basis of the student's preference, his academic training and standing, and the requirements of the Army.

There are various extra-curricular activities in which members of the Army ROTC may participate. An opportunity is afforded musicians to join the ROTC Band. There are various national military societies, such as Association of the United States Army and "The Scabbard and Blade," whose active members are selected from ROTC students. Students interested in rifle marksmanship may join the Rifle Team.

ASSOCIATION OF THE U. S. ARMY

The Ole Miss company of the Association of the U. S. Army was organized by some Mississippi cadets during certain "maneuvers" at ROTC Summer Camp, Fort Benning, Ga., last summer.

The AUSA is composed of students in the advanced course of military science. Among the activities which the group sponsored or coordinated were the Military Ball and the bringing of key military officials to the campus to discuss their specialized fields.

Pointer and Reeves represented the local chapter at the national convention of the AUSA in Washington this year.

Officers of the Ole Miss company are as follows:

Captain	MONROE POINTER
First Lieutenant	BOBBY WILLIAMS
Second Lieutenant	KENT LOVELACE
First Sergeant	LOWELL WINSTON

The Sponsors: Lt. Col. Pointer and Captains Stevens, Taylor, Doty, Whittington and Bell

Inspection—ARMS!

The same thing—Fort Benning, Ga. or Oxford, Miss. (Well, almost the same.)

"You see, it operates this way . . ."

NAVAL ROTC

The Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps was established at Ole Miss in June, 1946. McCain Hall is the NROTC base of operations on the campus and is named in honor of the late Admiral John S. McCain, USN, an Ole Miss alumnus and graduate of the United States Naval Academy.

The purpose of the NROTC is to train and qualify carefully screened and selected young men for commissions as Ensign in the United States Navy or Second Lieutenant in the United States Marine Corps. Ole Miss is one of fifty-two outstanding colleges and universities in the nation selected to augment the United States Naval Academy in graduating officers for these two services. The NROTC students pursue their selected major field of endeavor, as do their civilian contemporaries, and also study professional Naval and Marine subjects.

Not all of the Midshipman's time is spent in the classroom and lab. Approximately eight weeks each summer, the Ole Miss Mids spend their time on summer training cruises on active duty. There is much truth in the old phrase "Join the Navy and see the world." These cruises provide practical shipboard training while enroute to foreign ports, thus giving the midshipmen an opportunity to broaden his experience and outlook.

Upon graduation and commissioning, the new officers go to assignments aboard ship, flight school, or bases in the four quarters of the globe, where they represent Ole Miss and serve their country on land, sea, and in the air.

FIVE TERM TRAINING PROGRAM

The Five Term College Training Program was initiated in 1945 by the Secretary of the Navy. Its purpose is to provide commissioned officers of the Regular Navy in the rank of Lieutenant Commander and below with the opportunity to receive academic training equivalent to five terms of College-level education. Officers assigned to the program will receive an education equal to that given to officers who are graduates of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. At present there are forty officers of the wartime navy enrolled in this program here at Ole Miss. Upon completion of their present studies here, these officers will return to duty assignments within the Naval Establishment on ships and stations, both in this country and overseas.

LT. COL. JOHN H. SCHWEITZER
Professor of Air Science

AIR FORCE ROTC

The Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps, originally established at Ole Miss in 1946 as a part of the Army ROTC, has evolved since 1947 into the present Department of Air Science. The Department, with an Air Force staff of ten members, functions under the supervision of the University and of Headquarters AFROTC, Air University Command.

The course of instruction, consisting of class work and leadership laboratories, offers training which is designed to instruct the Cadet in all aspects of air power and its importance to the security of the nation and to develop in him those attributes essential in the Air Force Officer.

FIRST ROW: Major Milmer M. Peters, Major Forrest R. Sanders. SECOND ROW: Captain Alfred Anaya, Captain James W. Ashmore, Captain George R. Crosby. THIRD ROW: T/Sgt. Albert A. Twickler, T/Sgt. Kenneth A. Shull, S/Sgt. Donald M. Thomas, A 1C Thomas E. Shive.

During the first two years, the academic work consists of a series of related subjects that can best be described as a course in air-age citizenship. In the final two years, the advanced course, stress is placed upon Air Force procedure and applied air tactics.

All Cadets attend a four week summer camp between their Junior and Senior years. These camps are located at various regular Air Force bases. Cadets are afforded the opportunity to participate in orientation flights in late type military aircraft and to observe the application of principles learned in the classroom and leadership laboratory.

LEADERSHIP...SCHOLARSHIP

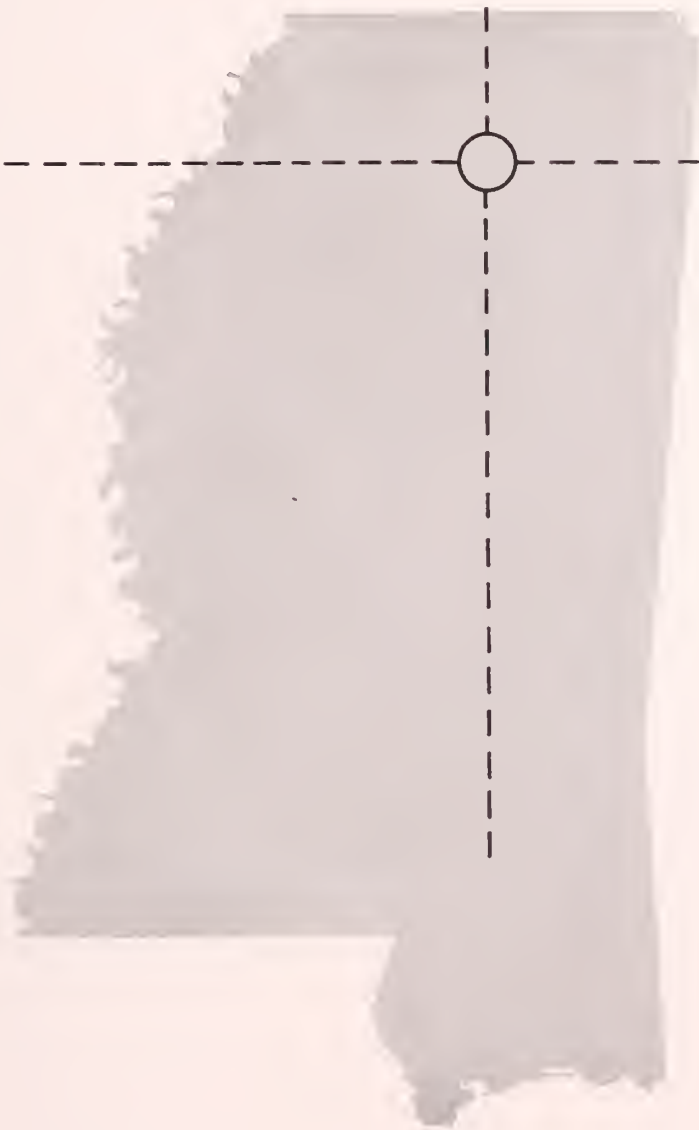

... ORGANIZATIONS

Our education at Ole Miss did not end with the facts we received in the classroom. We learned each day from our association with other students, and if we were willing to put out a little effort we could learn much more through more organized associations. There were clubs and study groups related to practically every department of instruction. Furthermore, there were the religious organizations to aid in the development of well rounded men and women.

And then for those students whose outstanding achievements merited recognition, there were the honorary groups. Students received membership in these for scholarship, athletic accomplishments, for outstanding work in a particular field, for military achievement, etc. At the very top of this select group were ODK for men and Mortar Board for women providing the greatest recognition for achievement an Ole Miss student could receive.

Curtis McKee welcomes the new students tapped for ODK.

Gene McRoberts hands over his gavel to the new president Curtis McKee.

Membership in Omicron Delta Kappa is the highest honor that can be bestowed upon a male student at the University of Mississippi. The members are chosen on the basis of leadership, which they have exhibited as well as certain moral and intellectual standards set up by the circle.

Although primarily an honorary organization, ODK performs many services to the University and its students. The principal project is the forum series, sponsored in conjunction with Mortar Board, which brings nationally and internationally known figures to the campus to speak on pertinent topics. During the fall semester, well-known social historian, David Cohn spoke on "America's Asian Frontier," and discussed fallacies in America's approach to foreign problems. Featured during the second semester were such outstanding news analysts as Daniel Shor, C.B.S. correspondent in Moscow.

To be considered for membership in ODK, a person must be in the upper one-third of his class, scholastically. Membership must include only two per cent of the total male enrollment and must be apportioned among the five phases into which ODK divides college life. Those phases are: (1) scholarship, (2) athletics, (3) student government, (4) publications, and (5) speech, music, and dramatic arts.

OLE MISS MORTAR BOARD

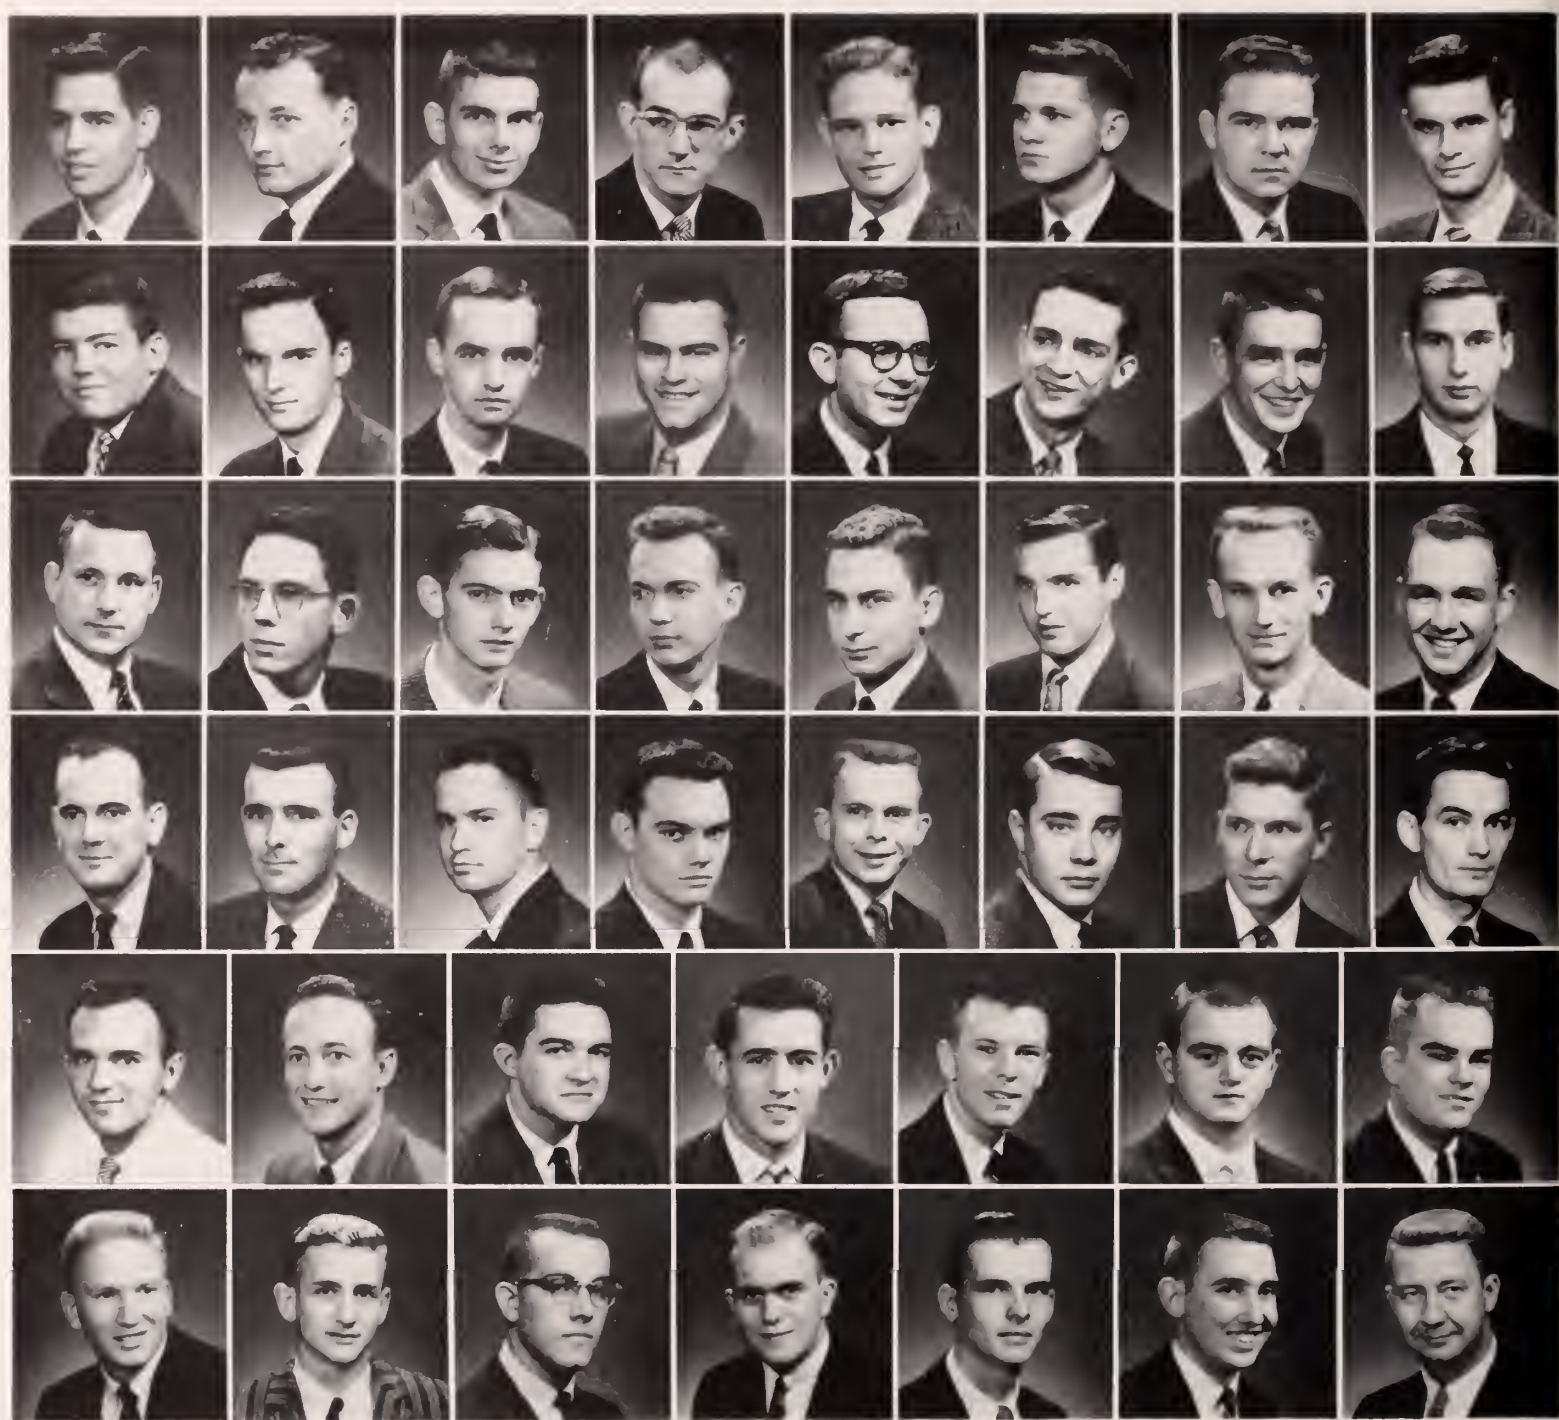

Daniel Schorr, CBS Moscow Correspondent, speaks in a forum at Fulton Chapel. The subject of the forum held jointly by ODK and Mortar Board was, "Can the U.S. live with Russia?"

The honor of membership in Mortar Board has come to symbolize an outstanding contribution to the Ole Miss campus in the fields of scholarship, leadership, and service. Each spring Mortar Board re-evaluates its own contributions and standards, then, on Honors Day in Fulton Chapel, taps new members according to its highest ideals. Mortar Board is more than an honorary organization, however. The campus situation is constantly studied, and service is rendered when needed.

Mortar Board joins with ODK in sponsoring the ODK-Mortar Board Forum series which continues throughout the year. They invite internationally famous persons to speak on pertinent subjects. Honors Day is also under their supervision.

Delta Sigma Pi was founded at New York University School of Commerce, Accounts, and Finance, on November 7, 1907. Alpha Phi Chapter was established at the University of Mississippi in 1927. Membership is limited to men in the School of Commerce and Business Administration who meet the necessary scholastic requirements and unanimously pass the chapter.

Today, Delta Sigma Pi is the second largest professional fraternity in the United States. International in scope, it is a professional business administration fraternity which fosters the study of business in colleges and universities; encourages scholarship and the association of students for their mutual practice; promotes closer affiliation between the commercial world and the students of commerce, and furthers a higher standard of commercial welfare of the community.

Delta Sigma Pi sponsors tours of leading industries, conducts programs with prominent speakers from the business world, and promotes discussions and films about important topics of interest to commerce students. Each year, the fraternity, in cooperation with the School

The American Institute of Chemical Engineers, Student Chapter, received its charter on the Ole Miss Campus last year. After a close inspection of the University as a whole, but with special emphasis on the Department of Chemical Engineering, it was decided that this university was qualified to have a chapter. The purpose of the student chapter is to promote the professional development of students of chemical engineering. Furthermore, it endeavors to foster a professional spirit among its members and instill a professional pride in chemical engineering. The activities of the chapter include lectures, movies, and the presentation of papers prepared by the members. In this way the club works to achieve its goal.

The Mechanical Engineers Club was founded on the University campus on 15 November 1954. The organization is open to all engineering students, sophomores or above, who are majoring in mechanical engineering. The purpose of the club is to promote better relations among the students and to keep students abreast of the latest developments in the engineering field. Meetings are held at which technical movies are shown, various industrial speakers are presented, and faculty members also speak.

The Mechanical Engineering Department of the University is in the process of being accredited. When this is completed, the Mechanical Engineers Club will become eligible for association with the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Anchor and Chain was organized at the University of Mississippi in 1947. Since its earliest days, the primary function of this organization has been to promote esprit de corps in the Naval ROTC Unit through meetings, social activities, and an active intramural participation. The programs at the meetings usually include a guest speaker from some phase of Naval or Marine service. Toward the close of the year, Anchor and Chain tries to acquaint the members who are going on cruise in the summer with the various aspects, requirements, and other matters of interest of each cruise. The members are held closely together because of one common interest—becoming an officer in the United States Navy.

The Arnold Air Society, founded at the University of Cincinnati in 1947, is the youngest of the national honorary military organizations in the United States. Its membership consists of those cadets in advanced Air Reserve Officers Training Corps who meet certain academic and military aptitude requirements.

The Al Key Squardon was chartered at the University of Mississippi in 1950. It has as its objective to further the purpose, mission, tradition, and concept of the United States Air Force as a means of national defense; to promote American citizenship; and to create a close and more efficient relationship among the Air Reserve Officers Training Corps cadets.

Epsilon Gamma Epsilon is a professional educational organization found on the campus of the University of Mississippi and other colleges and universities throughout the United States. This fraternity is composed of students in the School of Education who meet the requirements of scholarship and character. It has as its chief purpose the promotion of ideals and concepts of higher education in the field of business education.

This year the School of Education moved into its new building. Many additional opportunities were given the club when these facilities were put at their disposal. The new meeting place is one of the many things that are stirring up a great deal of interest in this organization.

The University of Mississippi Home Economics Club on the campus is affiliated with the Mississippi Home Economics Association and the American Home Economics Association. The club was founded on the university campus in 1938. The purpose of this organization is to bring together and inform the members of the opportunities in the field of home economics, and to promote clean, healthful homemaking.

A national program is set up at the beginning of each year. The points of this program are sent to the various clubs throughout the United States. At the meetings, held the first Monday of each month, the members work to carry out these points and to obtain the standards set by the club here at Ole Miss.

KAPPA PSI

The first national Greek letter pharmaceutical fraternity to be founded was Kappa Psi. The founding took place on December 5, 1879, at the College of Virginia. Later a chapter was established on the campus of the University of Mississippi and remained active until around 1930, when it went inactive. Some seventeen years later in May, 1947, the Beta Rho chapter of Kappa Psi was re-activated. Since that time its prestige has grown steadily on the Ole Miss campus.

Members are chosen in recognition of their scholastic standing, general ability, character, and personality. They are expected to exert their utmost efforts to preserve and further the ideals of the pharmaceutical profession.

NEWMAN CLUB

The Newman Club is composed of the Roman Catholic students attending University of Mississippi. It takes its name from the English clergyman and scholar of the nineteenth century, John Henry Cardinal Newman, who had a special interest in students. The purpose of the club is to foster and deepen the spiritual, intellectual and social interests of its members whenever possible.

The religious side consists of Mass and Communion together along with retreats and Days of Recollection. On the intellectual side, discussion classes are held on philosophical, sociological, and religious subjects.

Many projects are worked on so as to accomplish a double good—that is, aiding some person or group of persons while, at the same time promoting Roman Catholic ideals on the campus and helping the individuals to develop.

OLE MISS "Y"

"Religion and Life are one and the same, or neither is anything," believes the University Christian Association. It strives in many ways to unite a campus of natural fragmentation—both social and academic—into a real community based upon a common ground: that of believers in God. Its purposes can easily be discovered in the many types of activities within the organization's program.

These activities are carried out through the joint YMCA-YWCA. The Y meets every Monday evening in its own building for worship, study, fellowship, and service. The heart of the Y is the Cabinet, student leaders who direct Y-sponsored activities—convocations, retreats, stunt night, and countless other projects in cooperation with other campus groups.

Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity was established in Chicago, Illinois, in November of 1902. The fraternity is a national organization composed of seventy-five student chapters and thirty alumni chapters. Student chapters are located only in class A law schools which are members of the Association of American Law Schools. The Lamar Chapter, organized in 1929, at the University of Mississippi, was named for L. Q. C. Lamar, one of Mississippi's leading statesmen of the past.

Membership is obtained by fulfilling necessary scholarship and character qualifications. It is a primary function of the fraternity to foster friendship, cooperation, and a high code of professional ethics among its many thousands of brothers throughout the nation.

PI KAPPA PI

To become a member of Pi Kappa Pi is the highest scholastic honor that may be attained at the University of Mississippi. It was founded in 1925, in order to recognize scholarship and to uphold high ideals in scholastic work.

The requirement for membership is very high. One must have an "A" average over seventy per cent of one's work for a minimum period of two consecutive years. It is very seldom that over one per cent of the students achieve membership in this fraternity, although membership is not limited to any particular field.

In keeping with their purpose of recognizing high scholastic achievement, Pi Kappa Pi awards a medal each year at graduation to the senior with the highest overall average.

The Seven Saints is a campus dance band which was newly organized this year. It is composed of seven students now attending the University and has played for many of the campus functions including the Parade of Favorites and the jitterbug contest held last fall. This musical organization has also played for fraternity and sorority dances as well as many off campus dances.

SIGMA ALPHA ETA

Sigma Alpha Eta is the honorary fraternity for students majoring in speech correction at the University of Mississippi. The Phi Chapter was organized here at the University in 1951. To be a member of this fraternity one must have taken advanced course work in speech correction and have maintained a 4.0 average. It has as its purpose the furthering of professional growth and the creating of interest in the area of speech and hearing.

It gives its members an opportunity to bring classroom theory into use outside the classroom and to broaden their knowledge of the field. Very often the members of Sigma Alpha Eta are given the opportunity to hear prominent speakers in the field of speech and speech correction at their meetings.

The Wesley Foundation is the organization in the Methodist Church for college students who are members of that church or whose preference is Methodist.

Its aim is to foster the social, moral, and spiritual needs of students by tryng to create a greater personal relationship with God and continue to strengthen those ties with the Church, made in youth, which assure full Christian maturity.

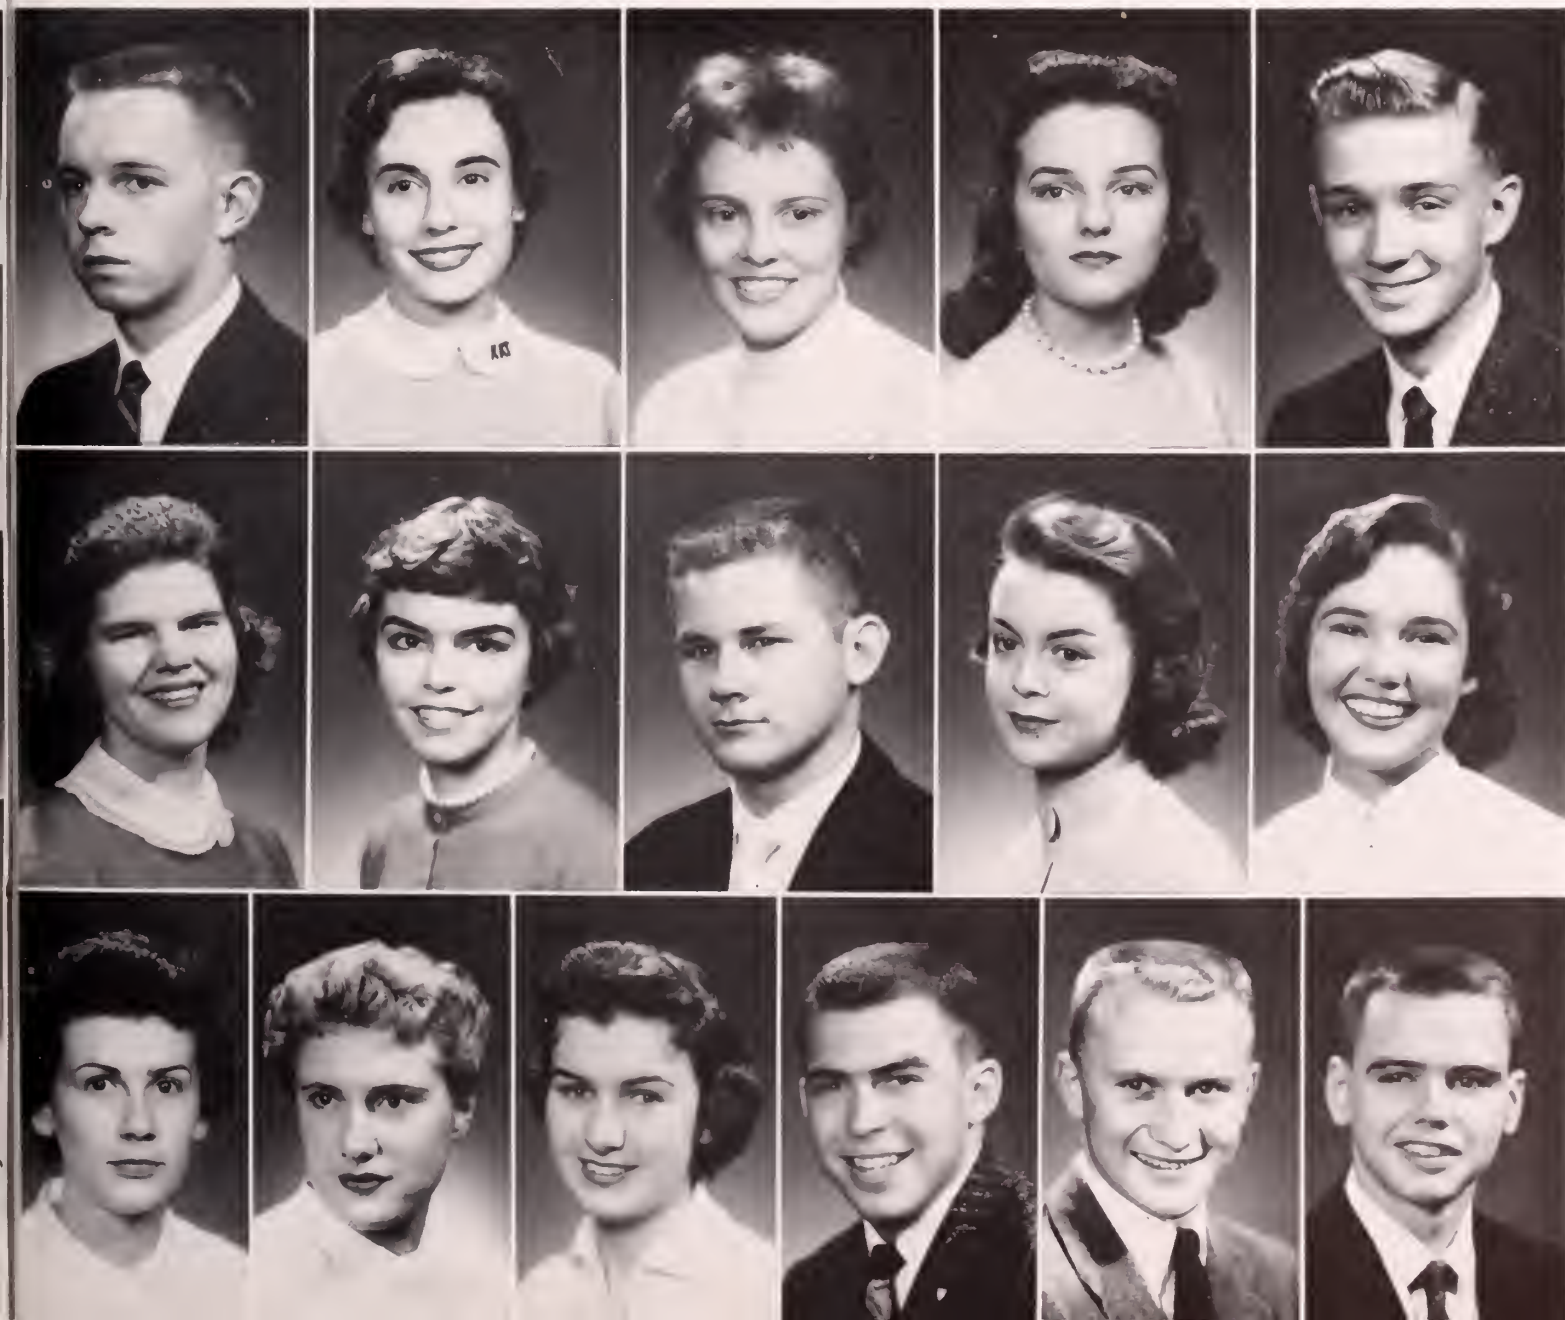

Meetings are held each Sunday evening in the Wesley Foundation annex of the Oxford-University Methodist Church, where meals are served and programs are presented for the entertainment and education of its members. They include discussion groups, studies, worship services, and recreation. At times when important guest speakers are to be present, the Wesley Foundation invites the religious groups for students of other denominations to join with them in Christian fellowship.

Alpha Delta Sigma is a national honorary advertising fraternity for male students. The George McLean Chapter was organized on the University of Mississippi campus in May of 1952. There was much celebration in September of 1952 when the Charter was presented by Professor Milton E. Gross, National Secretary of Alpha Delta Sigma.

The fraternity was organized to bring together men who are interested in advertising as a career. It promotes fellowship among them and enables them to discuss their common interest—advertising. In addition to meeting with fellow students, members of Alpha Delta Sigma are in contact with professional advertising people.

When one becomes a member of the fraternity, he is automatically affiliated with the Advertising Federation of America.

Alpha Epsilon Delta is a national honor society for pre-med students who have maintained a 4.5 average over two consecutive semesters. A student who has maintained a 5.0 average after one semester may be pledged. It was founded at the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, Alabama, in 1926. At present there are over ten thousand members in the sixty-one active chapters in colleges and universities throughout the United States.

The objectives of the society are to encourage excellence in pre-medical work by furnishing a goal towards which the students may strive during the early semesters of his or her pre-medical career; to bind together the similarly interested students, and to bridge the gap between the spirit of the pre-medical school and that of the School of Medicine.

Alpha Lambda Delta is the highest scholastic honor attainable for freshman coeds at Ole Miss. The purpose of this organization is to promote intelligent living and a high standard of learning; and to encourage superior scholastic attainment among freshman women in our institution of higher learning. Alpha Lambda Delta is a national honorary society with chapters at universities over the United States.

To be eligible for membership, a woman student must maintain a 4.5 average throughout her freshman year. The freshman coeds who do so are initiated at the end of their freshman year and are active during their sophomore year. There can be no failing grades on the records of members of Alpha Lambda Delta. The rigid requirements set up for membership make it indeed an honor to be asked to join.

Student chapters of the American Society of Civil Engineers provide the opportunity for the beginnings of professional associations. Membership is open to all juniors and seniors in the Department of Civil Engineering, but all students in the department are welcome to attend some of the meetings. Membership in a chapter assures that contacts can be made with the technical and professional progress of civil engineering and with the leaders who are responsible for such progress. Even more important, membership offers the chance to take part in the constructive activities carried on by future leaders of the profession. The student chapter supplements regular class meetings and laboratory work, and is the only agency that can relate the professional development of students to the achievements of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

The Baptist Student Union serves as a connecting link between the campus and the church for Baptist students and for those of Baptist preference. It offers a chance for spiritual growth on the campus along with mental and cultural developments through church-related programs and activities. The BSU Councils which are elected annually have the responsibility of contacting and enlisting, in the various activities, all the Baptist students. The Councils plan activities and co-ordinate the Baptist program with that of other campus religious organizations.

Each year the Ole Miss BSU sends a delegation to the State BSU Convention. It sponsors short devotionals each week day at noon which are conducted by the students themselves. Prayer dates are considered an important part of BSU. Various mission projects are also undertaken.

In October of 1947 the Business Education Club was organized on the campus of the University of Mississippi. This club is the unifying force for the many students and faculty on the campus who are interested in business education. Through this organization they can get to know each other better and have more opportunities to discuss a subject of mutual interest. The club also provides excellent opportunities for the student to become a personal friend of many of the faculty members since they meet because of a common interest. Because it was felt that the benefits are just as great to a "C" student as to an "A" student, membership is not based on grade averages, but is extended to all students or faculty who are interested in business education.

The Canterbury Club is an organization of the Episcopal Church for Episcopal students. It provides students with opportunities to develop their religious beliefs more fully and to continue their church work while on the campus of the University. The Club meets each Sunday evening as well as Thursday evening. On Sunday various programs consisting of speakers, panels, films, recreation, and group discussions are held. Thursday nights the members meet and eat together at what is known as the Supper Club. There, religious topics are discussed by the students on their own level. This gives each Episcopal student an opportunity to express and discuss his beliefs. Each year the Canterbury Club sponsors various social events such as shrimp suppers. It does a great deal of work among the needy around the University.

The Cardinal Club, a sophomore service organization at Ole Miss, was organized on the campus in 1927, and had as its primary purpose the entertaining of visiting athletic teams. Since then the Club has become famous as a freshman disciplinary committee. Each year the Cardinal Club sponsors the building of a giant bonfire the night before the Homecoming game. The main purpose of the Cardinal Club now is to instill in the freshman students enthusiastic spirit and love for Ole Miss. They make certain that the freshmen attend all pep rallies and like functions.

The membership of the club is composed of one representative from each fraternity and two from the student body at large. The president is elected from the preceding year's Cardinal Club and is a member of the junior class.

Chi Epsilon is a national honorary fraternity for civil engineers. Its purpose is to form a closer union and bond of friendship and loyalty among those now preparing for and those now in the civil engineering profession.

Eligibility for membership in Chi Epsilon is determined by excellence shown in scholarship, character, personality, practicality, and sociability. Juniors and seniors in the school of engineering are the only persons eligible.

This year marks the ninth successive active year of the Ole Miss chapter of Chi Epsilon since its reorganization. It was inactive for six years before it was reorganized in 1949. Since its reorganization, Chi Epsilon has done a great deal towards creating a spirit of unity among those in the civil engineering profession. It is a goal for underclassmen in civil engineering to work toward.

Mississippi Iota Chapter of CWENS is an honorary organization for sophomore women. To be eligible for membership, the student must be outstanding in leadership and participation in campus activities as well as in the maintenance of an excellent grade point average. This organization is a goal toward which all freshman women students work. It encourages a student to be well-rounded. Scholarship is not the ultimate goal of CWENS. Only ten per cent of the freshman women who make a 4.0 average are asked to become members of CWENS. It emphasizes the importance of being active in all phases of college life in addition to making good grades. CWENS encourages a girl to be aware of all activities around her. She is made to realize the importance of good grooming, refined manners, and broad interests.

Eta Sigma Phi is the national honorary fraternity on the campus of the University of Mississippi for students of the classics. With over forty chapters throughout the United States, it is a growing fraternity in a field where recognition on a campus is often overlooked. To become a member, a student must show a high degree of proficiency in either Latin or Greek. He must make a minimum of a B in any advanced Latin or Greek course.

It is the purpose of Eta Sigma Phi to create and maintain an interest in the study of the classical languages. To be recognized for outstanding work in this field is a great honor at the University of Mississippi. Membership is a goal for students of classics, and thus encourages them to do well in their studies.

Hillel, which is one of 200 foundations at universities and colleges in the United States and foreign countries, provides Jewish students of the University of Mississippi with personal counseling, plus services for all needs such as culture, religion and social. The foundation on this campus is sponsored by the Mississippi B'nai B'rith, a Jewish men's service organization.

In all phases of its work, Hillel seeks to relate the student to his historical and cultural group. It resensitizes him to the meaning and beauty of his tradition, and it acquaints him with current developments in Jewish life, while equipping him with skills to help maintain and develop Jewish life as a dynamic cultural and social process. The common interests of all Hillel members make it a very worthwhile, enjoyable, and progressive group.

Phi Delta Phi is the oldest professional fraternity in the United States. International in scope, this legal fraternity is one of the enduring institutions among honorary fraternities which exist today. Mayes Inn of Phi Delta Phi was formed at the University of Mississippi in 1927. The members are selected from those law students who have displayed the highest qualities of scholarship and character in their legal training. The purpose of the fraternity is to promote culture and professional ethics in the legal profession.

Participation in Phi Delta Phi's activities offers the earnest law student unmatched opportunities for an early awareness of the practical legal problems and techniques not emphasized in the curriculum, as well as helpful guidance to a more general understanding of the profession for which he is studying to be a member.

Sigma Alpha Iota is a national honorary musical fraternity for women which is found on the campuses of the leading colleges and universities of the United States. Membership is limited to those graduate and undergraduate music students who meet the requirements. They must be majoring or minoring in music, show exceptional musical ability, and possess a high scholastic rating. In addition to this the students must be recommended by the faculty of the Department of Music.

Whenever famous musicians visit the campus, they are met by members of Sigma Alpha Iota and are shown around. Many times this group has the distinct privilege of having private meetings with these outstanding figures in the musical world. This gives them an opportunity for personal instruction and advice that they would not ordinarily have had.

The Hall of Fame . . . Beauties . . . Favorites . . .
Rebelee Queen . . . Miss Ole Miss . . . Colonel Rebel
. . . Homecoming Queen—these were the “extra-specials” of Ole Miss, the features that added interest and “oomph” to the year.

Elections were always high-spirited and suspenseful, with well-organized and original campaigns, consisting of posters, banners, pins, buttons, signs, flags, and slogans. Then, the wait for the announcement of the selection of the Hall of Fame and ranking of the beauties was possibly even more suspenseful, as these were top secrets.

Also, Ole Miss was very proud to be represented by two of its co-eds as winners of competitive state-wide and national beauty contests. Mississippi's “Miss Hospitality” and the National College Football Queen were Ole Miss girls. These features on the next few pages are the finishing touches, the color, the vanilla, without which the year would seem lacking.

Dear Mr. Sansom:

I want to thank you very much for considering me to judge the "Ole Miss Beauties" for your yearbook. However, I must confess that it was a most difficult task since all five young ladies are unusually good looking and appear to have a great deal of charm and poise.

After carefully studying the pictures and, incidentally, changing my mind a number of times, I have made the following selection which in order of preference is:

1. Miss Nan Rutledge
2. Miss Kay Swayze
3. Miss Bessie Sarphie
4. Miss Pat McRaney
5. Miss Deanna Durham

Please extend my very best wishes to all the lovely young ladies.

Sincerely,

Steve Allen

STEVE ALLEN RANKS THE BEAUTIES

Steve Allen is the star of the award-winning, comedy-variety series televised over the NBC-TV network every Sunday evening. A man of multiple talents, Steve, in addition to being an exceptional wit and comedian, is an accomplished writer of articles and books, a musician, a recording artist and a composer with over 2,000 songs to his credit.

This year, at the Parade of Favorites and Beauties, twenty favorites were selected from thirty-eight, and fifteen beauty finalists were chosen from twenty-nine entrants by student vote. A secret student committee was then asked to select the top five beauties from the fifteen finalists. These five beauties were photographed by George Ambrester, Master of Photography, and the portraits (four poses of each girl) were sent to Steve Allen to be ranked. His selections are shown in the letter on this page. The OLE MISS would like to express its appreciation to Mr. Allen for his participation.

Incidentally, Mr. J. R. (Col.) Cofield, who has taken the class section pictures and, with the exception of a few recent years, the beauty and queen pictures for the feature section for the past thirty years, has decided to discontinue this line of work for the annual. He compiled a list of coeds and has asked that this list be included in the OLE MISS.

The following is quoted from his letter:

"COFIELD SELECTS HIS ALLROUND CHOICE (of a 30 year period '28 to '58)

Most beautiful two girls of Ole Miss I have ever known or photographed were:

Miss Jean Bullock (Mrs. Rodney Gates) of Columbia, Mississippi. (1936 Yearbook)

Miss Suzanne Dugger (Mrs. Ira L. 'lil Shine' Morgan) of Picayune, Mississippi. (1954 Yearbook)

And the two post photogenic models were—

Miss Jeanne Smith, of Tunica, Mississippi. (1951 Yearbook)

Miss Mary Ann Mobley, of Brandon, Mississippi. (1956 & 58 Yearbook)"

BEAUTY

Miss Nan Rutledge

To be an OLE MISS Beauty one year is an honor; to be selected for two consecutive years is an exception. But then Nan is an exceptional person.

M.S.C.W.'s loss was the University's gain when this junior beauty from New Albany transferred her sophomore year. The Chi Omega's acclaim her as one of their greatest assets and one of the loveliest coeds. "A happier girl—a more beautiful girl you shall never see."

BEAUTY

Miss Kay Swayze

This fall a little blonde, blue eyed, wisp of a girl from right here in Oxford, charmed her way into the minds of every Ole Miss man. Her sparkling eyes, radiant smile, and Southern drawl took the campus by storm. This is Kay Swayze.

Education is her major and the Chi Omega's call this lovely freshman "sister." Truly, Kay is the picture of a typical "Southern Belle."

BEAUTY

Miss Bessie Sarphie

She calls McComb, Mississippi, "home" and Ole Miss the "Greatest." This lovely miss is a native Southerner and proves it by her drawl of "y'all." This bright-eyed beauty is a real Rebel who doesn't have to shout to draw attention. That's Bessie Sarphie, a most welcomed addition to the University. Bessie, a freshman in the School of Education, is claimed by the Kappa Delta's as a sister. Her dark, vivacious beauty has won her many friends and admirers.

BEAUTY

Miss Pat McRaney

Beauty and talent are a too rare combination these days;

but of Pat's beauty there is no question, and her ability in the fields of art and music is well known.

This petite Kappa Delta from McComb is a freshman in the School of Liberal Arts. A dark haired beauty with Southern charm that dazzles all she meets, is a perfect description of Pat McRaney.

BEAUTY

Miss Deanna Durham

This young lady found her way to Ole Miss from way down South in Brookhaven. Her name is Deanna Durham, and since this fall she's been enriching the view around the Tri-Delta House, Ward Dormitory, and the campus of the University. A freshman in the School of Liberal Arts, this lovely lass has won many friends and honors with her gracious charm and manner.

OLE MISS HALL OF FAME

The highest honor that can be achieved by an Ole Miss student is to be selected to the Hall of Fame. Members of the Hall of Fame are chosen on the basis of leadership, scholarship, loyalty, spirit, devotion, and service to the University.

The selection is conducted in such a manner as to be entirely free from politics. A secret committee of eight students and eight faculty members choose a committee of twenty-five students, who are then asked to select the members of the Hall of Fame. The entire selective process is done by secret ballot, and no member of the committee knows the identity of any of the other members.

Those students who were chosen for the 1958 Hall of Fame are Edward Connell, chairman of the Judicial Council; Ray Mikell, vice-president of the Associated Student Body; Raymond Brown, president of Commerce School and outstanding in athletics; Neil Woodruff, editor of the "Mississippian"; Brad Dye, Jr., president of the Associated Student Body; and Leroy Reed, Colonel Rebel and outstanding in athletics.

WHEELS ... GRADUATION

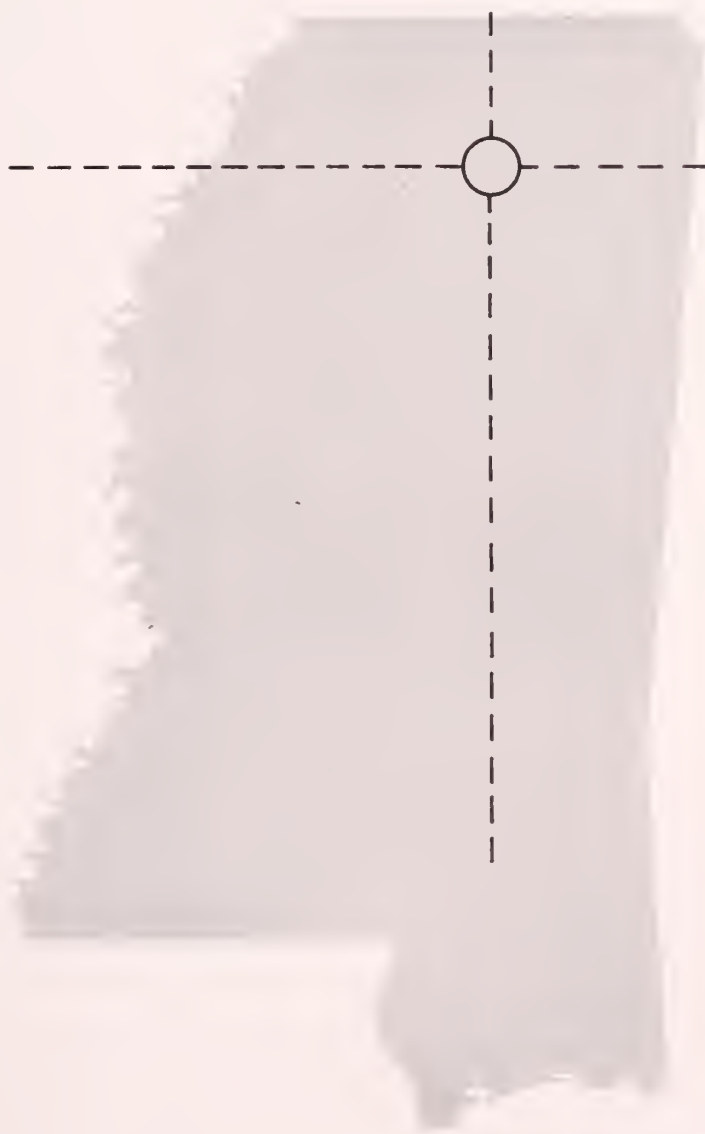

... CLASSES

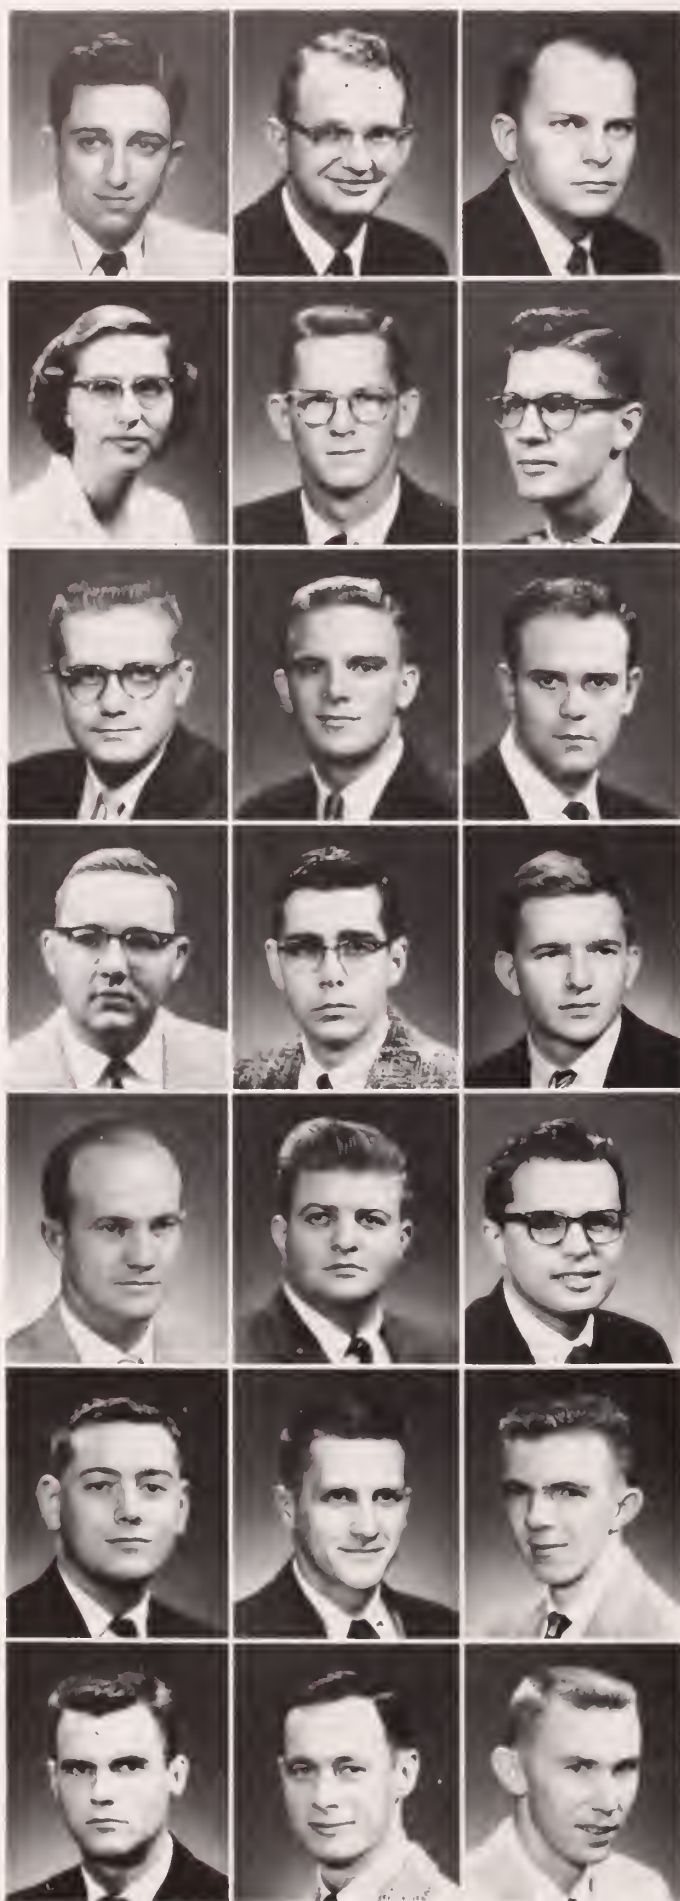

A group of brick buildings lay quiet and deserted in the summer sun . . . an occasional automobile broke for a moment the monotony of silence and stillness . . . a few teachers and workmen wandered across campus . . . and then we came.

The buildings were no longer deserted nor quiet. The noises of our automobiles permeated the campus. The professors' lives once more became grim, and the workmen found their summer's work undone and more to be done. We, the students, had returned, and an empty campus had become Ole Miss.

Naive freshmen, bored seniors, industrious professional and graduate students—all were a very definite part of an unforgettable year. It is the purpose of this section to picture those who made Ole Miss and the year 1958 unforgettable.

IN MEMORIAM

The entire Student Body was grieved to learn of the death of Mr. Robert M. Carrier. Although his health had prevented him from being in as great evidence in campus affairs as in past years, Mr. Carrier was known, admired, respected, and loved by each student of the University. The older students remembered how Mr. Carrier travelled with the football team to all out of town games and how he could always be found in the northwest corner of the gym when the Rebel basketball team was playing at home.

Mr. Carrier expressed his interest in another way also. In 1952 he gave $500,000 for the construction of a new engineering building, and in 1955 he gave $500,000 for scholarships. These financial gifts coupled with his personal activities show the magnitude of Mr. Carrier's interest and love for the University. The Ole Miss students can never do enough to express their appreciation for his deeds. His memory will be perpetuated by the students themselves as they tell each new freshman class—as has been done in past years—of the goodness of "Mr. Bob."

MR. ROBERT M. CARRIER

Carrier Hall, the new engineering building, was one of Mr. Carrier's many gifts to the University.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Words could never express the gratitude and appreciation which we hold for the following. We must, therefore, merely list them and hope that they will accept our sincere thanks.

Benson Printing Company, especially Buddy Shaw for his patience and persistence in the publication of this book; and Ralph Langreck for the excellent art work and layouts in spite of a wedding . . .

Mr. P. A. Dean and Shreveport Engraving Company, whose work speaks for itself . . .

Mr. J. R. Cofield, one of the greatest "photogs" we know . . .

Mr. George Ambrester for the beauty portraits . . .

Steve Allen for ranking the beauties . . .

Billy Gates for assistance with the athletics . . .

Lee Davis Thames for his advice and help . . .

Dr. Getchell and Tom Evans for help in the Parade of Favorites and Beauties . . .

The BAWI Board for many of the pictures in the opening section . . .

The "Mississippian" for giving publicity . . .

The University News Service for pictures . . .

The Student-Faculty Publications Committee for their cooperation throughout the year . . .

And the many others; too numerous to mention, but nevertheless important, who helped make this annual a reality.

AFTERWORD

The 1958 OLE MISS is finished; the last of the copy has been sent and the annual office has been cleaned up. Cleaning the annual office has brought some interesting things to light. Some of these things which were left out of the annual bear a little examination.

As you drove onto the campus on that dreary, rainy, typically-Oxford day, you were greeted at every turn by groups of would-be politicians who took the job of welcoming so that they could have another committee listed on their handbills at the next election, or by frat cats whose sole purpose was to "meet those Freshmen and rush 'em!"

The next several days saw the males wearing their key-chains as they descended on the Freshmen girls. Some went so far as to aid the ASB (whose existence they weren't aware of earlier) by leading groups for the Orientation Committee just so they could "make a few contacts." The Sophomore girls began to get used to going around without male companionship, while the Senior girls made the usual futile attempts to resemble a mature, intelligent lady with savoir faire.

The night before registration saw the square at Oxford full of squares from the campus trying desperately, as they danced, to resemble a typical college cat "doin' some bopping." Confusion reigned supreme the next day as registration started. Transfer students lost credits by the score—you'd have thought all of them were trying to transfer credits from that intellectual void, Mississippi Southern. Some transfers won't find out until graduation day that their credits weren't accepted. The upperclassmen reappeared on the scene trying to sneak rushees or Freshmen girls through the lines early in order to prove their superiority.

This was also the time for rush. Each fraternity and sorority had the best group on the campus, had more campus leaders than anyone else, had a closer bond of brotherhood, etc., etc., etc. Some said that the rushees should look at the physical facilities and their advantages; others cried even louder that the individuals are what counts. It is interesting to note that each sorority got exactly the girls they wanted, and each fraternity was bumped only twice.

The first manifestation of the effects of fraternities and sororities appears at Freshman "Y". On the night appointed for election, each pledge class, in its entirety, attends the meeting. The lobbyists in Congress would be put to shame by the things that go on prior to these elections. After the officers have been elected—thus adding another point in rush for the lucky frats—most of these eager Freshmen, like the Arabs, fold their tents and silently steal away, never darkening the door of the "Y" again.

About this time the flu epidemic hit the campus. Some of the more intelligent students went to the University Hospital, with the hope of being cured. Those with only a cold received a perscription that was either mimeographed in lots of a thousand or was stamped with a rubber stamp on a perscription pad. Those with slightly more serious cases were told by a brilliant diagnostician to "take an aspirin, go to bed, and let it run its course." The others died.

This brings to mind the occurence of a very interesting incident. It seems that one of the more prominent campus figures, the Abe Lincoln of campus politics, in a lighter moment and under the influence of—the flu. . . . Oh well, that's a long story. The wrist slapping which followed shows that India is not the only place with untouchables.

For football games, students always had the privilege of obtaining a ticket receipt. Why, for one game a raffle was even held, just to add interest. New friends were made and school spirit was intensified by the fellowship found during the hours spent waiting to exchange receipts for tickets. Some students, not appreciating the fellowship, knew the ropes and used them. Having attained their seats, some of the more "spirited" rooters competed with the show on the field. One of the highlights of every game was the performance of one student who thought himself to be highly talented with a bugle. Speaking of highlights, can anyone forget the student seating at the Sugar Bowl? They say Ole Miss won.

During the football season the annual presented the Parade of Beauties and Favorites. Never had more date suppers been planned. The boys, for the first time since the last parade, were sought after. A honeyed attitude, originating in the chapter rooms on sorority row, permeated the entire campus. The original change in the voting procedure provided a hurdle that the sororities soon overcame. With instructions in hand everyone was pleasantly surprised to find they could vote for numerous candidates. The question then became: "Who should do what to whom?"

Around Thanksgiving time, the tinkle of cow bells prompted an impromptu pep rally led by the more level-headed element. Becoming aroused, the boys naturally thought of the girls, and took the rally to them. "Unmentionables" were mentioned, and nature took its course. To solve this perplexing situation, the powers-that-are hit upon the Master Plan—Panty Raid Drill. When the alarm is sounded, each girl should: lock her door and windows, close the blinds, secure her "articles", and assume a position UNDER the bed lest she appear suggestive.

7 December, a memorable date in history, was graced this year by the annual Navy Ball. Were they celebrating Pear Harbor Day or the "launching" of the Navy satellite?

A few nights later the Deke house caught on fire. The alarm was turned in and, after an appropriate interval, the fire department arrived. Following a short hose drill and a lecture on the use of fire extinguishers, water was placed on the flames. As students showed interest in fire-fighting, the firemen proved able instructors as they relinquished their hoses and retired to watch and warm themselves. The Dekes are building a new house.

Soon after Christmas, the Army put on a memorable performance for the Mississippi Military District Inspectors. Perhaps unforgettable would be a better word because the Army hasn't been able to forget it yet—try as they may. Lest we forget the Air Force, congratulations are in order for all two of the seniors applying for pilot training.

Campus automobiles have a new look this year, multi-colored registration stickers. To some this seems complicated, but actually, it is quite simple: the blue stickers mean that the car may be parked on fraternity row, or is it the red stickers—or on sorority row? Well, anyway the green stickers mean that the car belongs to a staff member and can be parked anywhere at anytime—or is that a black sticker? Actually, it's quite simple because the only time you can move your car is between the hours of two a.m. and five a.m.

Students who do not like the situation have an outlet in the Campus Senate. This august body will set up a Special Investigation Committee immediately. Please note: Special Investigating Committee to Investigate the Laundry, Special Investigating Committee to Investigate the Cafeteria, Special Investigating Committee to Investigate Student Ticket Distribution, Special Investigating Committee to Investigate Exorbitant Book Prices, Special Investigating Committee to Investigate Special Investigating Committees.

Speaking of investigations, a private one conducted by the level-headed element initiated an interesting chain of events. It seems that a certain democrat who was not so young had been stretching things a bit. Using methods that would make J. Edgar Hoover "proud", the "sentinals of integrity" disclosed the "TRUTH", but in so doing one went the way of the martyr to the sacrificial alter.

Having thus examined these omissions, we now cast them back into the trash from whence they came.

*M*any years of practical experience, the finest of photographic materials, painstaking care, and a sincere desire to make the "57" OLE MISS portray an interest and an artistry unsurpassed have been important factors in our efforts to portray for you Ole Miss and its students at their best.

It is our hope that this volume of the OLE MISS will in no small measure merit your commendation because of our thoughtful and careful attention to every photographic detail in the composition of this book.

Working with the staff and with the students on this important undertaking has for us been a genuine pleasure.
